VOTE TO CLOSE COUNTY SCHOOL

Pupils at Kirkpatrick To Be Transferred to Other Districts.

The Scott local township school at Kirkpatrick will be closed effective with the start of the school year this fall, it was announced today.

Decision to close the school was reached by the township board of education at a meeting Thursday night at Kirkpatrick, D T Mills, county superintendent said

Lack of pupils was given as the reason for the closing Enrollment during the school year just completed was only 70 for the entire 12 grades

In addition transfer of 26 pupils attending the school to the Crawford county system and the possibility that an additional five students may later be transferred to Crawford county cut anticipated enrollment for the next school year to 39, according to enrollment figures in the county school office

It was indicated that the present board of education will retain its legal identity for purposes of paying bills and maintaining the six-room brick and frame school Board President Guy Fisher indicated that a caretaker would be employed to keep up the building and grounds

Other Board Members

In addition to Mr Fisher, board members include W. R Brooks, Harry R Longacre and Eldon Beers who were present at the Thursday night board meeting attended also by Supt. Mills and assistant superintendent Ivan Barnhart

Although final details on the disposition of pupils and the present faculty have yet to be worked out, it was indicated that the approximately 40 students in the district would attend nearby schools which include Grand Prairie, Tully, Caledonia and Claridon As far as possible, preference of students as to the school they wish to attend next year will be considered in assignments to other county schools, it was

Call for Erie Contest Essays

In today's Star appears the sixth and final installment of "Men of Erie," a condensed history of the Erie railroad.

With this history as their theme, high school students of Marion county are invited to write essays in a contest in which the two best will win vacation trips to New York City with all expenses paid. The winners will be guests of the Erie Railroad Co. in cooperation with the Marion Chamber of Commerce

The essays, not more than 1,000 words each, must be submitted to the Marion Chamber of Commerce, 116 North State street, not later than May 29, a week from today. The contest is open to high school students of the Marion city schools, Marion parochial schools and Marion county schools. Three judges, appointed by heads of these schools, will choose the winners.

Girl on Reds' Roll Unlucky

Disowned by Father, Who Resigns Important U. S. Government Post.

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, May 22—Misfortune overcame dark-eyed Euphemia "Mickey" Virden soon after the olive-skinned beauty took a job with Russia's Tass News Agency that subsequently caused her father to resign a high federal post

This was disclosed today by tenants of the dreary apartment house in which Miss Virden lived alone.

They said that her frugal quarters, in Washington's Bohemian section, were ransacked and two rings and a bracelet stolen by a sneak thief after she joined Tass early last January

Meanwhile, Miss Virden disappeared under the "protective custody" of a burly Tass reporter who said he wanted to take her "where she can't be bothered by the press"

Her father John C Virden, resigned as director of the commerce department's office of industry cooperation yesterday because of his daughter's ties with Tass

Father Defends Her

At the same time, Virden disclosed that he broke all family relations with the girl when she went to work for Tass He defended her as "a girl of high ideals" and asserted that the Russian news service was guilty of "exploitation"

Virden's resignation was de-

BIKE RACE TO PASS THROUGH MARION

Due Here Between 9 and 10 A. M. from Columbus.

Governor Herbert will fire the starting gun at 7 a m in Columbus tomorrow as 25 cyclists get away on the 135-mile Ohio Olympic bicycle trials

The marathon will pass through Marion between 9 and 10 o'clock enroute to Shelby where the race will terminate, the International News Service reported. Russell Wenger was appointed by the Marion Junionr C. of C. as chairman of a committee to insure safe passage of the riders through here, The riders will enter Marion on route 23 and depart on 4, headed for Bucyrus.

The race will begin in front of the governor's mansion in Columbus and from there will pass through Delaware, Marion, Bucyrus, Galion, Crestline, Shelby, Mansfield, Ashland and back to Shelby for the finish.

Winners will qualify for regional trials. Regional winners will be eligible for the U. S Olympic tryouts later this summer in New York.

Riders are scheduled to reach Shelby at 2:30, which means they will have to maintain an average speed of a little better than 18 miles on hour over the 135 miles. Protection on the highway will be supplied by the state highway patrol which will furnish several motorcycle patrolmen as escort from start to finish.

Rules prohibit the cyclists from accepting food or liquid during the race. They must carry their own supplies and they can not accept help in fixing flat tires

IDLE NUMBERS ON STRIKE DROP ACROSS NATION

Ranks Continue To Thin as Packinghouse Workers End Walkout.

By The United Press

The number of workers on strike across the nation dropped to about 150,000 today as 70,000 CIO packinghouse workers ended their long bloody strike against most of the country's packing houses

The union called packers off the lines before plants operated by the Cudahy, Swift and Armour firms in addition to many independent companies, but remained on strike against Wilson and company

In other developments on the labor front, the threat of a 225-000-worker General Motors strike next Wednesday still hung over the nation Both sides waited for the government to make the next move to break a deadlock in soft coal negotiations and officials of the unions said the White House must make the next step to settle the railroad dispute.

Packers Returning

Here were the details

Meat—The Packinghouse workers will return to work in Cudahy, Swift, Armour and independent plants on terms they could have accepted before their 67-day-old strike They accepted the nineteen offer of management after demanding a 29-cent hourly boost They remained out against Wilson and company because the firm refused to arbitrate on the question of re-hiring workers fired for illegal acts during the walkout Chairman Clare Hoffman said his congressional subcommittee, which closed hearings in Chicago, may investigate meat strike violence at Kansas City next

Automobile—Negotiations stalled today between the CIO United Auto Workers and General Motors but both sides said they would continue efforts to avoid a strike by 225,000 workers set for Wednesday. A wildcat strike by 2,700 Briggs Mfg Co. employes idled 3,800 other Briggs workers and 3,500 Packard employes for the third successive day The strike by 73,000 Chrysler employes went into its eleventh day

Await Complaint Against Lewis

Coal—Soft coal operators waited for Robert Denham, general counsel for the National Labor Relations board, to issue a complaint against John L Lewis and his United Mine Workers for refusing to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers association Lewis, preparing for talks with anthracite producers next Thursday at Philadelphia, indicated that he planned no immediate move to meet with the southern coal executives unless forced to do so by court order.

Railroads—Officials of the engineers, firemen and switchmen's union which were prevented from striking when the government seized the railroads, said today that settlement of their dispute with the carriers would be impossible without government intervention The latest in a series of union-management sessions broke up yesterday when the roads turned down union "compromise" proposals.

Printing— President Woodruff Randolph and his progressive party faction maintained their lead over John Evans and his independent party in the tabulation of votes cast in the AFL International Typographical Union's election this week. Unofficial returns from 27 locals gave Randolph 25,173 and Evans 16,634.

Another Winter Gas Shortage Forecast

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, May 22—Federal power commission officials said today the midwest is headed for another winter shortage of natural gas that may shut down factories and keep home temperatures in the 60's.

The shortage already has started. The commission has been holding six weeks of hearings—which are still going on—and is expected to issue gas curtailment orders as it did last year.

More than 100 delegates representing 37 local unions with 60-000 members assembled this morning in the hall of Local 750 of the United Auto Workers CIO for the fourteenth annual meeting of the union's region 2-B, covering northwestern Ohio

The session was opened at 10 a m by William Everly, president of Local 750. He introduced Mayor Harry L Dowler who welcomed the delegates to Marion

A roll call of local unions was answered by delegates of 37 local unions.

Regional Director Charles Ballard, of region 2-B announced the postponement of the main address until this afternoon The address was to have been made at 11 a m by Richard Gosser of Detroit international vice president of the UAW-CIO, second only to Walter Reuther in union rank.

Mr Ballard called for the formation of the resolution committee after which resolutions for consideration by the committee were accepted from the delegates

The first resolution called for continued opposition to the Taft-Hartley law, a second called for endorsement by locals of this district of the Chrysler strike, while a third suggested was that local of the district go on record for better pay for teachers, both in Marion and throughout Ohio

Introduction of resolutions was followed by an address by Mr Ballard upon clauses to be included by negotiating committees in shop contracts for the coming year

At noon the delegates recessed for a luncheon at Hotel Marion

Afternoon Program

The agenda called for the session to reconvene at 1:30 p m when a summer camp film was to be shown by Howard Rediger, Local 12 camp director Lowell Goerlich, Toledo attorney and former Marion man, was to speak on the Taft-Hartley act

A series of addresses were to follow, including the following: Edward Duck international representative, on 'Co-ops", Walter Madrzykowski, international representative, on "Time Study', Jack Holt, educational director of regions 2, 2-A, and 2-B, on 'Education"; Tom Burke, executive secretary of the T I U C, on the "Political Situation' International UAW Vice President Richard Gosser achieved the main address on the subject 'The Chrysler Strike, Its Effect on UAW and the Workers of the Nation"

Vice President Gosser's address was followed by a question and answer period after which the meeting adjourned

The invocation was given by Dr Edwin A Brown, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church on Olney avenue

JESSE JAMES CLAIM IS CALLED A HOAX

Former Marion Woman Says She Knew Outlaw.

The Oklahoma man who says he is the Jesse James, old-time bad man of the west, is hoaxing the public, according to Mrs Elizabeth Gordon, 82, of Mt Vernon, a former resident of Marion

Mrs Gordon, as a girl was a neighbor of the James family in St Joseph, Mo

The Oklahoman's recent claim that he is Jesse James, brought reminiscenses of Jesse's funeral from Mrs Gordon when her daughter, Mrs Georgia Hallman of 223 East Columbia street, visited her yesterday "Why, I even combed his mother's hair to go to the funeral and saw Jesse lying in his coffin," Mrs Gordon told her daughter

Mrs Gordon recalls that she and Jesse were about the same age "He was tall and handsome," she said

Mrs Gordon left Missouri about 60 years ago, and made her home in Marion for a number of years. Her former husband, Frank Couts operated a meat market on North Main street She remarried and has lived in Mt Vernon 25 years

First Memorial Day Services Are Scheduled for Sunday

Memorial services honoring the dead of all wars will be held Sunday in three Marion county communities, Caledonia, Waldo and Brush Ridge, and by the Marion Navy club at the Forest Glen Memorial park north of Marion

The address at the Naval services scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. will be delivered by John L. Zimmerman of Springfield, an attorney. A veteran of World War I, Mr. Zimmerman served two terms as national commandant of the Navy club. He is the brother of Charles Zimmerman, Ohio supreme court judge. The program will be held on the banks of the park lake, weather permitting, or in the cathedral chapel in case of rain.

BREAK GROUND FOR 58 HOMES

Ceremony Held at Site of Subdivision on Seffner, Uhler Avenues.

In a gathering of more than 100 representative citizens and workmen, Mayor Harry L Dowler broke ground yesterday afternoon to begin work on Marion's newest subdivision on Seffner and Uhler avenues between Indiana and Mt Vernon avenues, the Marion Contracting Corp will build 58 new houses in that area

Ground-breaking ceremonies were organized and directed by Ernest L Davis, president of the Marion Contracting Corp. who opened the affair with a speech of welcome after which he introduced A L Guckert, of Columbus, regional director of the federal housing administration

Mr Guckert complimented Mayor Dowler and the citizens of Marion for the beauty of the city and its abundance of trees He said on behalf of the FHA he wished to assure the people of Marion that his department was glad to assist in the financing of an addition that would be a source of pride for people of the city as well as providing comfortable attractive, homes for many of its citizens He stated that all houses in the project would be inspected, financed, underwritten and approved by FHA

Mayor Dowler Speaks

Mayor Dowler made the official address in which he stated the advantage of the addition to the city, stating he had inspected the plans for the subdivision and his belief that the new addition to the city would provide not only many homes for present residents of Marion but would make the city more attractive to new industries because of the prospect of new, modern, housing for workers He restated his belief in Marion and his confidence in its future growth

The mayor accepted the shovel from Mr. Davis and stepping to the roped off site, where excavation for the foundation of the first house in the subdivision will start, he shoveled the first spadefull of earth from the site. After official photographs of the event were completed the ceremonies ended.

NEW YORKER INDICATED AS VICTOR IN VOTE

Displays Unexpected Strength In Areas Generally Conceded to Stassen.

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore, May 22 — New York's Gov. Thomas E Dewey maintained a small but victory-indicating lead today over Harold E. Stassen as precinct reports in Oregon's republican presidential primary election neared the three-quarter mark.

With 1,115 of the state's 1,861 precincts in, the unofficial count gave Dewey a margin of 59,969-53,025 to the Minnesotan's 17,050

Late returns from southern and eastern Oregon areas shaved the New Yorker's lead slightly, but his strength in populous Multnomah (Portland) county largely offset them and strengthened the belief yesterday's balloting had given him the state's 13 delegates to the Republican national convention. All delegates go to the winner.

Dewey Victory Indicated

Dewey showed greater strength than expected in the territories remote from Portland and seemed unlikely to be headed.

Stassen's defeat as indicated at this point in the count, would be his first major setback in a presidential drive starting in Nebraska and Wisconsin

With the count past the halfway stage, neither Stassen nor Dewey would go out on a limb in the face of the closeness of the vote

"I am very happy over the returns at this point," Dewey said in Seattle before retiring early this morning. "But I do not wish to make any statement until more complete totals are available"

Surprise Developments

Dewey's surprise showing in up-state cities and the rural precincts was an important factor in the New Yorker's early pace Pre-election indications were that this was Stassen country, with Dewey's principal hope populous Multnomah county and Portland

At the half-way juncture Dewey was ahead in 20 of Oregon's 36 counties, Stassen in 14 One was unreported But as upstate returns rolled in late last night, Stassen cut down Dewey's county lead from its high point of 22 to 8.

Store Window Display Contest Set for Thursday

An opportunity to do some profitable "window shopping" will be presented in Marion Thursday night when a Misplaced Merchandise Contest similar to the one sponsored last fall by Marion merchants will be held

There will be $200 worth of prizes offered comprising $5 gift certificates good in any of the participating stores Entry blanks containing the list of cooperating stores will be carried in the Marion Star Wednesday night and will also be available at the Marion Chamber of commerce office.

The misplaced merchandise, any article obviously not sold by the store displaying it, will be in store windows from 7:30 to 10 p m. Thursday night.

Contestants must see all windows of stores cooperating in the contests and list not more than one misplaced item in the space on the entry blank opposite the name of each store in which misplaced merchandise was seen

Blanks must be turned in at the Chamber of Commerce office on North State street by 10 p m. that night. Speed counts for in case of ties the first entry with the least number of errors submitted to the chamber office wins first prize. Prizes will be awarded to those whose entry blanks record the greatest number of misplaced articles of merchandise correctly.

Judges will comprise members of the Marion chapter, National Secretaries association.

Indian Lake Lumber Plant Swept by Fire

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., May 22—Fire swept the Indian Lake company lumber yard early today, destroying the office building and a concrete mixing plant.

Officials of the Bellefontaine Development company, owners of the yard, estimated the loss at more than $40,000.

Firemen from nearby Russels Point and Lakeview prevented the blaze from spreading to a feed mill and several residences.

Gold Recovery Ends Rush in Mt. Gilead

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 22—A gold rush was staged in Mt. Gilead the other day.

Dr. William Via, Mt. Gilead dentist, left a small paper box containing $45 worth of gold to be used for filling teeth on a table in a Mt. Gilead restaurant after eating lunch.

Discovering the box missing when he returned to his office, he rushed back to the restaurant and found that his table had been already cleared by Leonard Jones, the proprietor. The box was found open in a trash can and "prospectors" Jones and Via spent a busy half hour panning out the pieces of gold.

Pleasant School Rates High in Typing Event

Pleasant High school's first year typing team won fourth place in the annual typing contest held April 24 at Defiance college, Defiance, according to an announcement of contest results received today by Myron Halley, head of the commercial department of Pleasant High school.

Charles Mayers, senior, placed fifth in competition for advanced students. Martha Zachman, a senior, and Sally Dawson, a sophomore, ranked fourteenth and fifteenth in the individual contest which attracted 250 students from 60 high schools. Audrey Wolfe, a senior, ranked twelfth in advanced student competition.

Competition for the four rating was very close, Mr. Halley said, as the Pleasant team which placed fourth was only 1 03 points behind the first place winners.

Four of the six students from Pleasant High who competed in the contests won placings in the ranking first 15 of the 250 competing, Mr. Halley said.

ACT IN MORROW CO. ON CHILDREN'S HOME

Commissioners Ask Judge To Name Building Group.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 22—First action to establish a Morrow county Children's Home was taken when the Morrow county commissioners met this week.

The commissioners passed a motion to have Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford appoint a building commission for the construction of a Children's home in accordance with the will of Charles E. Parsons.

Mr. Parsons, who died on September 9, 1941, left his estate in Troy township to Morrow county to be used as a home for crippled and needy children. County commissioners accepted the estate several years ago.

Estimated to have a value of approximately $65,000 at the time of the death of Mr. Parsons the estate is now estimated to be valued at nearly $80,000. Included in the estate is nearly $10,000 in cash, $35,000 in bonds, a farm property valued at nearly $7,500 and stocks Mr. Parsons was a retired mail carrier.

The judge will appoint four members to the Building commission, not more than two of which shall be of the same political party. The four with the three commissioners will make up the commission.

Terms of the will provided that if the estate was not accepted by the county it would go to the rural carriers association for a home and if not accepted by the rural carriers it would go to other benevolent institutions.

SCHOOL

agreed. The township's two school buses will be used in conjunction with other facilities for transportation of pupils.

The school board indicated it was a hard and painful decision to make, but in view of present conditions felt it was the only logical course of action to pursue.

Members of the board were present Thursday afternoon at a conference between Marion city and county school officials and state education department officials held here to consider two petitions for transfers of students, one of which concerned the Scott township school.

State Representatives Here

Representing the state education department at the hearing were Robert Roy, of the division of school finance, A. D. St. Clair, field agent for the school finance division and R. M. Eyman, assistant superintendent of public instruction.

The state educators considered first the petition involving transfer of approximately 20 children from the city to the Grand Prairie school district and second a petition asking transfer of five Scott township pupils to Crawford county. The former petition had met with the approval of city and county school officials while the latter had been disapproved by the county board of education.

The Scott transfer had been asked at the same time as a petition from residents of Dallas township in Crawford county asking transfer of the township back to the Crawford county system. Backed by 75 per cent of the residents the petition was approved by the county board. Dallas township, Crawford county, had for many years been included in the Scott local district. In connection with this petition involving transfer of 26 students, neighbors across the line in Marion county filed a petition asking that five additional Scott students be transferred also. This petition was disapproved by the county board of education and was reviewed Thursday by state education department representatives, who will report their decision on the petition at a later date. Final disposition of the five students in question is still pending at this time.

Scott township board members were informed that the school faced possible withdrawal of its present charter in view of the reduction in number of pupils. With less than 40 children, one state educator opined he could scarcely see how the state could certify Scott township for an educational unit larger than a one room school. It was the opinion of the state men that closing the school and reassignment of pupils was virtually the sole logical avenue of action left to the Scott township board of education.

The present high school enrollment there is 17 with the graduating class this year comprising two students. Present faculty includes J. O. Thrawl, superintendent, Miss Helen A. Clark, Dan M. Lust, Mrs. Eleanor Showers, Mrs. Eva Lemke, Miss Josephine Walter, Mrs. Jessie F. Daugherty.

Fred Stump, 16, of Lima, cut on head, treated at hospital and released.

The cars were driven by Loy Eugene Keller, 16, of Lima and George Erow J., 24, of near Mt. Gilead. Police reports indicate both cars were headed east on West Center street and Keller stopped his car at the traffic light at Orchard street when the Erow car, which was also moving east, ran into the rear of Keller's car knocking it across the intersection. After the collision Erow's car caught fire. He suffered first and second degree burns according to police reports. Ted Rambo, who was riding with him was injured but did not suffer burns, hospital attendants report.

Both cars were heavily damaged. The accident victims were removed to City hospital by the Gunder and Uncapher-Bastian ambulances.

ON NON-PARTISAN BALLOT

MT. GILEAD, May 22—Gale B. Weller, Mt. Gilead attorney, has announced that he will be an independent candidate for the office of probate judge at the November elections. Weller is circulating petitions and will file with the county board of elections soon, he said. He will be opposed on the judicial non-partisan ballot by Conrad Clouse, Democrat, the incumbent, and C. Howard Conaway, who received the Republican nomination.

ADVANCE MAY 31 PLANS

BUCYRUS—Their plans somewhat complicated by the inability of the scheduled Memorial day speaker to be present for a Monday observance of the holiday, the Bucyrus Soldiers and Sailors Memorial society have voted to go ahead with Monday plans and engage another speaker.

Julius Bohn, Ashland educator, native of Crawford county, had been scheduled as speaker. A Sunday union worship will be held. The Monday ceremonies will include the customary parade.

GIRL

manded by Rep. Crawford (R) Mich., in a letter to Secretary of Commerce Sawyer.

Sawyer said he had urged the Cleveland, O., manufacturer to remain because he had proved himself "violently anti-Communist."

At her apartment, Miss Virden refused to defend her ideals but denied that she was indifferent to the fact that her father was resigning because of the publicity.

After Virden's dramatic resignation, Crawford said that other government officials "having known Red relatives on federal payrolls will save themselves and their government embarrassment by removing themselves from high positions which are in any way connected with security subjects."

Studied Social Conditions

Miss Virden was educated at Sarah Lawrence college at Bronxville, N. Y., and at the Westover school in Middlebury, Conn. Later she took a job and studied social conditions at a Bloomfield, N. J., factory.

Her father is the owner of John C. Virden Co., Cleveland makers of electric light fixtures.

Before he came to the commerce department, Virden was director of the war production board office in Cleveland and served with the office of foreign liquidation in Paris and Cairo.

REV. PAUL SMITH

Evangelist To Open Services Here Sunday

Rev. Paul Smith, evangelist and musician who has conducted campaigns in Canada, Great Britain, Jamaica and the United States, will open special revival services at Emmanuel Baptist church Sunday night. He is a son of Dr. Oswald J. Smith of Toronto, Canada, pastor of the People's church there. After graduation from McMaster university, he did post graduate work at the University of Toronto, and directed for some time a Melody hour at his father's church. He is a trombone musician, as well as song leader. His preaching has been described as "thought provoking, scholarly, and spiritual, with illustrations taken from real life." His wife, a soprano soloist, will accompany him here and will assist with the music. Presiding at the piano will be Robert M. Billester who also plays the trumpet. Other musical features will be presented. The public is invited to attend these services which will continue through May 30. Dr. C. E. Hersney, pastor, stated.

DROPS DEAD AS DOGS FIGHT

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., May 22—George E. Comersall died on a sidewalk yesterday while two dogs fought each other over his body until police killed them, Coroner Paul G. Hohly said. The 55-year-old Toledo man had taken his huge Boxer dog out for a walk. The dog and a neighbor's cocker spaniel began to fight and Comersall slumped to the sidewalk with a heart attack. Police shot the two dogs so members of the rescue squad could reach the man.

DEMOCRAT BALL TEAM WINS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22— If you think congressmen sometimes get confused in congress, you should see what happens to them on a baseball diamond. Last night the Democrats beat the Republicans, 23-14, in the annual congressional game, sponsored this year by the Washington Evening Star for the benefit of needy children.

The first railroad in the U. S. constructed for steam engines was completed in 1833 and ran from Charleston to Hamburg, S. C.

Marion on Circle's "Rim"

Marion at present is on the outside rim of the circle of television reception from Cleveland. For that reason reception here is not possible as good as the standard of quality it will be when ... stations now in construction, in Columbus come on the air expected at the end of this year. Distance lends difficulty at this stage of the game in television and if you do want to put a set in your house now be sure that you get an expert to install and that you have plenty of antenna as far up in the air as you can get it. Television, by the way, won't work out of that old bunk of wire clothesline you've been running your radio from all these years. Mr Hodges suggests a three element beam antenna cut especially for television channel five, which is the one which station WEWS Cleveland operates from. Proper antenna here require a height of not less than 30 feet. Eighty to 100 feet increases ... chances for good reception, ... Hodges says.

What Set Looks Like

The front of a standard television set looks very much like that of a large radio except there are more knobs and buttons and of course the screen. Each set has 12 buttons and a knob on the front. Each button turns the set to a different television channel. (In radio they are wavelengths, in television channels.) These channels are set by the federal communications commission and do not overlap in any certain area. In other words you don't get two pictures on the screen at the same time. As for the screen Mr Hodges says that he only a large screen is best as a small one, but more expensive and you get exactly the same picture on the small screen as you do on the large one only ... in a smaller size.

For a meeting of the RFAG class of Epworth Methodist church Tuesday night, Mrs. Hazel Fields was hostess in her home at 364 South Vine street. Mrs. Lucille Snare presided and appointed a nominating committee including Mrs. Opal Newell, Mrs. Marguerite Bull and Mrs. Dale Toms. Mrs. Newell conducted devotions, and Mrs. Joyce Ralston presented two articles. Contests arranged by Mrs. Mabel Ulsh were won by Mrs. Faye Miller and Mrs. Anna Augenstein. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Mildred Buente, Mrs. Grace Ulmer and Mrs. Nita Wolfe.

MISS DONNA RUTH McLAIN

Marion Girl Is May Queen Of Nurses' Class

Chosen recently to reign as May Queen of the spring festivities of the Lima Memorial Hospital school of nursing was Miss Donna Ruth McLain of Marion, a student nurse at the hospital and a member of this year's graduating class. The election was held among the 77 student nurses in the training school at the hospital. A junior-senior banquet and dance held May 13 at the Argonne hotel in Lima opened the festivities. A tea for the mothers of the students will be held Sunday afternoon, May 23, baccalaureate services will be Sunday, May 23, at 8 p. m., and graduation exercises will be on Monday, May 24, at 8 p. m. The baccalaureate and graduation services will be in the Trinity Methodist church in Lima. The alumni banquet and dance is to be May 28, and the final affair to conclude the activities will be the spring dance for the entire student body on June 2 at which time Miss McLain will be crowned queen.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McLain of 312 Latourette street, Miss McLain is president of the school of nursing student council, vice president of the senior class and a member of the Memorial Nurses' choir. She was graduated from Harding High school with the class of 1945.

JUSTICE WEYGANDT TO SPEAK AT LA RUE

Ohio Supreme Court Jurist To Address Class.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio supreme court will be commencement speaker Tuesday at LaRue when 20 graduates are scheduled to receive diplomas at graduation exercises at the high school.

Class night program was held Friday night with baccalaureate services scheduled for the high school auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Sunday. Father Felix Cleary, of St. Joseph's church, LaRue, will give the baccalaureate sermon with Rev. L. D. Parrish the invocation and Rev. C. A. Hutchinson, pastor of the LaRue Methodist church the scripture reading. Anthems will be sung by the high school girls and mixed choruses.

At graduation to be held at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, Robert Jones will give the valedictory and Lillian Outland the salutatory address. Following the address William S. Guthery, board of education president, will present diplomas to graduates. The high school mixed chorus and band will present the musical program. Betty Lou Hutchison will present a piano solo.

Three Traffic Accidents Reported by City Police

Three automobile accidents and one arrest was reported by police today.

Cars driven by Miss Minerva Moore and Clay Wilfred Shonk of 164 Dix avenue collided at the intersection of West Fairground street and Oak street at 7:53 p. m. yesterday. Both cars were considerably damaged.

A truck driven by Ivan E. Landon of 207 Flies avenue and a car driven by Florence S. Baber of 205 East Washington street collided on South State street at Hill at 1:30 p. m. yesterday. The vehicles were damaged.

A complaint was filed with the police department by Mrs. Viola Hardin of LaRue who reported that her car was struck by a hit-skip driver while parked on Center street in front of the Marion Power Shovel Co. She reported a left rear fender damaged.

Earl Bosh, 49, of 739 East Mark street, arrested on a reckless operation charge on North Grand avenue, was lodged in city jail at 1:15 a. m. today.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

e Fa in had tossed the and in those of Mary, of Kath- ident of an atom arine, and of the Underwoods as r the group. This I shot quick glances at each of elf extravagantly as I them in turn from beneath my her father's eyes, lowered eyelashes

If I had not been sure that she was talking at random, and had no real knowledge of the scheduled secret wedding of fugitive King Georges of Trees and exiled Princess Olina, of Transylania at our Sag Harbor farmhouse I would have been what Mrs Tiger my good farm neighbor calls flabbergasted" But with that conviction, I was ready to rally my courage to deal with her.

But I was thankful, indeed, to Dicky for using me over the emergency with a swift fibbing agreement with her words. It enabled me to formulate a plan for dealing with our child, our far too-precocious child I told myself with a queer combination of irritation and maternal price

"You're dead right there, Faith," Dicky said easily

She stopped pirouetting, and came over to stand in front of him

"Then who is getting married?" she demanded "It can't be Don Kee-o-ti, for you say he's just somebody in a story."

My husband flashed me a glance of appeal, and I nodded

"Do you know Baby" he said coaxingly, "Mummy knows that story ever so much better than I do Don't you think you'd better ask her to tell you about it?"

"Okay" Faith agreed easily, evidently not caring particularly from what source the story came, as long as she heard it She turned, and came dancing over to me, making a lovely picture in her pajamas and beloved fuzzy red bedroom slippers, with her hair tousled in ringlets all over her head. Behind her back, Harry Underwood almost upset my risibles by pointing his fingers gamin fashion, at Dicky and mouthing "Cowardly custard quitter," in lip-reading language

She climbed into my lap, and Katharine was there at the same instant with the afghan which she had tucked around Faith when she first appeared in the living room and climbed into her father's lap

"I'm going to charge union rates for moving freight if this keeps up," she told Dicky as she picked up the afghan.

"What's union rates?" Faith demanded, distracted as she always is by a new problem from the subject in hand

"Something you'll find out some day," Katharine told her. "Don't trouble your head about them now"

Another question plainly was trembling upon Faith's lips, but I flagged it

"Do you remember darling?" I asked her, "that I promised you a surprise""

Her face was full of avid interest as she looked at me

"Are you going to tell me about it now?" she asked, "and is Don Kee-o-ti getting married part of it?"

"Yes, to both questions," I told her, "but I cannot tell you anything if you are going to interrupt me with questions"

"Cross-my-heart-and-hope-to-die!" she intoned with the time-honored gesture, "and Scout Honor, too, I won't ask you a single question."

"Will you promise me, also," I said, firmly, "that you won't talk about this surprise to anybody, not even to me until I give you permission?"

Her eyes were wide with wonder.

"Not even to you?" she asked

"Not even to me," I repeated.

"Well" she drew a long breath "That's the queerest thing I ever heard, but I'm game I won't speak a syllable about it, till you say so Now, what's the surprise?"

That Man Will Be Back

EVERY business forecast is subject to change without notice if John L. Lewis decides to close down the coal industry. The existing contract between operators and United Mine Workers expires June 30. Under one of the contract's terms, union miners go on vacation June 26. If no new contract has been drawn up when the vacations end on July 5, the miners will stay away from work under their union policy of no-contract-no-work.

No one is optimistic enough to believe a strike can be averted. It will take place just before the Democratic national convention on July 12. Mr. Lewis will be in national politics and national economics up to his ears. His picture will be in the papers. His words will be broadcast and studied for shades of meaning. Factories and mills will shut down as coal supplies dwindle. There will be angry statements and rebuttals. Business statisticians will prepare elaborate charts to show that the coal strike has done more damage to the country than three atomic bombs, Hiroshima size. Lawyers will thrust and parry. Judge Goldsborough will be expected to rush to the rescue like a detachment of Marines in the good old days of Yankee imperialism and what with one thing and another the United States will be in a grade A tizzy.

There have been recent signs that his countrymen were forgetting that Mr. Lewis retains the power of veto over all their aims and aspirations. He had been out of sight and out of mind for a few weeks. But he hasn't been out of business. The next coal strike begins July 5, with a two-week stoppage of coal production in advance to make it hurt that much more.

The Zanesville Movement

EVERYBODY in the country has had a chance to ponder the possibilities of letting high school boys take over the administration of their town for a day and clean it up, the way they did in Zanesville.

It's obvious that the young people of America are determined to do something about adult delinquency if given half a chance. The irresponsible behavior of their elders is an ugly blot on the consciences of their offspring. They can see that the old folks are the prisoners of bad habits. They need to be taken in hand by their offspring and shown the error of their ways.

The thing to do is go to the source of adult delinquency, which is their apathetic attitude about government. Jar them out of the notion that government good enough for grandpa is good enough for them. It isn't. And it certainly isn't good enough for their own children. That's the nub and essence of the Zanesville movement.

Unfortunately, nothing will come of it. No one will exploit it. There would have to be money and a national headquarters with pamphlets available and bright and shining faces furnished on request. But the possibilities are there. Something could be done about adult delinquency. Some day something will be done about it. There will be a children's crusade.

Billions for Security But—

SOONER or later in the development of a national security program, the armed services will have to face up to one of the unpleasant realities of recent experience.

A great many taxpayers are going to want to know what, if anything, has been done to keep the Benny Meyerses at arm's length in a new round of spending. With a national defense budget each year larger than used to be needed to fight a war, temptation to milk the government will be stronger than it ever was before.

The public would like to have some assurance that padlocks have been installed on places raided by opportunists in two wars. It would like to be able to feel that something has been done about the fine old military custom of covering up for malefactors who regard themselves as gentlemen under the officer system. It would like to know that the spending of public money is surrounded by at least as many safeguards as the spending of much smaller sums of private money. It would be overjoyed to know that something was being done to get a dollar's worth of everything government buys in the name of national defense—an impression that never was made by the spending splurges of World War II.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

More About the Collier's Poll.

LET us have a look at the "advisory nationwide poll of daily newspaper editors" for the Collier's prizes. The top 10 for first and second choices for the senator who this year provided the most distinguished congressional service were:

	1st	2nd
Taft	113	36
Vandenburg	55	55
Byrd	21	35
Morse	9	7
Barkley	6	6
Flanders	6	6
Ball	5	17
Ferguson	5	10
Connally	5	..
Ives	3	6

Of these 10, the poll shows that 7 are Republicans. Although Collier's ignored the newspaper editors' judgment, passing over four names to reach Senator Barkley, the fact remains that the only New Dealer among the 10 is Senator Barkley. Taft received more votes by eight than the remaining nine added together. This is particularly significant because the poll was taken on a nationwide scale, covering all parts of the country and all shades of political opinion.

The fact that the Collier's committee, headed by Eric Johnson, chose to ignore this poll, rejecting Taft, who received 113 votes, and accepting Barkley, who received six votes, is something that requires a better explanation than that the committee had decided to disregard candidates for presidency. What, even if that is true, is the excuse for disregarding Byrd and Morse, who are not candidates?

Taft Far Ahead

Considering the Washington newswriters, editors, broadcasters and columnists, altogether 28 of them, Taft received 12 as first choice, 2 as second choice, 2 as third choice; Barkley, 3 as first choice, 2 as second choice, 5 as third choice. On the first choice, Taft leads Barkley 4 to 1. But this, too, is ignored by the Collier's committee.

If the first 10 senatorial names are shunned in the Washington poll, nine out of 10 are Republicans, namely Taft, Flanders, Ives, Tobey, Ferguson, Hickenlooper, Smith, Vandenberg and White. Only one Democrat appears among the first ten, Barkley, and he got the prize.

This is one of the most amazing showings in all this curious prize business. Taft leads the field among nationwide editors, 113 to Barkley's 6; among Washington newsmen, 12 to 3, but Barkley gets the prize!

Precisely what additional information did the Collier's committee have before it that made Senator Barkley's services in the present senate of greater distinction than those of Senator Taft? It is interesting that such Washington newsmen as Robert S. Allen, Bert Andrews, Frank Kent, Thomas L. Stokes, none of whom is a rockribbed Republican, voted for Taft for first choice. Yet the Collier's committee ignored their recommendations as it did the nationwide poll of daily newspaper editors. There must be a reason. The most plausible but unsatisfactory explanation is that the Collier's committee desired to avoid endorsing a candidate for the presidency. But that has nothing to do with the prize which is designed to honor a senator and a representative for distinguished services in a particular year.

Statement from Collier's.

"The committee does not operate under fixed criteria or rules. Each year it is free to do as it pleases. In selecting the winners for 1947, a number of members felt that it would be wise to eliminate avowed presidential candidates from consideration, lest the award be mistaken for a political endorsement."

If that is the explanation, it should have been made in advance of taking the polls. The pollees, in that case, would have known that they could not vote for Taft, Vandenburg and Joe Martin. As it stands, many must wonder whether the committee did not reach its conclusion after the vote was in—and Bob Taft came first.

Warmin' Up Again

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Joe Stalin Reply To Henry Wallace

MR. HENRY WALLACE,
Third Party Presidential Candidate, U.S.A.

DEAR HEN:

Your letter received and I want you to know I consider it one of the great documents of our time in fact I do not put any other document close enough for a photo finish. You know how I feel about America's accredited leaders and those of other countries: Plain inadequate Henry. You alone measure up as my idea of a man I could sit down with and have no trouble.

PHILLIPS

I have been hoping ever since the war ended to hear from some American who really understood this whole matter of peace, brotherly love and global cooperation. At times I thought such a man would never come along and that I would have to go on struggling and hoping for peace, world cooperation, democracy, the rights of small nations and all like that. It was most depressing, I can tell you.

Think of it, nobody anywhere in this big world to take a stand with me for a strict policy of non interference with sovereign states and to give a stern "Hands off" to anybody trying to interfere with the domestic policies of another country! Nobody to give me any support in my all-out desire for a swift peace with Germany! Nobody to stand with me in my policy of reducing armies! Nobody to join me in a fight against military and naval bases on other people's territory! Nobody to help me get my yen to sit down in harmonious accord, talk things over, scrap obstructive tactics and iron out all differences in a nice gentlemanly way! It was awful. And then suddenly you came along with your deep appreciation of what I was going through!

Henry, your letter was like a bolt from the blue. It made me feel that a great peace movement like I am can ultimately win recognition if one never gets discouraged.

You of all men seem to know how I have suffered getting up each morning to face the same old depressing scene: Warlike nations keeping their armies up to scratch and even adding new ones; one state dictating to another state; little countries being shoved around by big countries; democracy getting the hotfoot and all like that. It had me pretty well crushed, Hank.

You are so open and concrete. That's what I like about you, the concrete. Look at Truman, Byrnes, Marshall, Churchill, Attlee, Dulles and all the other duly chosen leaders of great countries and you see what is the trouble! A plain concrete shortage, my boy.

Well I feel like a new man and Russia is a different nation too, thanks to your letter. Molotov and Vishinsky who have been struggling so hard for cooperation are as happy as two kids. Gromyko feels fine, too. Just between ourselves along about election time I may drop you a line offering to swap the veto for a dozen eggs and agreeing to join the hybrid corn business in a way on broken pledges. I sure would like to see you in the White House, as you know.

Yours as one peace leader to another,

JOE.

"LOS ANGELES—The nation's leading radio station owners have at last agreed pretty well on a new code of ethics to protect the American home. Children's programs will be governed with more respect for American moral and ethical ideas. Crime and mystery programs will not portray crime in such a way as to fascinate children and blueprint the routine."—News item.

The Circus Minister

By Frank Tripp

GOD has gone with a circus. And I'll be going to church at least once in July, too. It will be under canvas and the preacher will be an old showman, a colorful and unusual one.

He's the only bona fide circus man to become a bona fide minister. He's the Doc Waddell of whom I wrote a few weeks ago. The old-time press agent, who had those strange affairs with Indian Chief Geronimo and with a boa constrictor; one of my "lovable old liars."

TRIPP

Doc is coming to town and I'll be "going circus" again. I just heard from him for the first time in more than 40 years. My story about old press agents smoked him out.

Strange things—for a showman—have happened to Doc, who once played the string and always won when he dealt the cards. He's an ordained Methodist minister now, the chaplain for life of Mills Brothers Circus—the Billy Sunday of the Big Top—84 years young.

Out in the staid Ohio town of Centerville is Mills Brothers' Winter quarters. There Doc goes into training in the Spring; with performers, lions, tigers, elephants and clowns. Before they hit the road in mid-April, Mills Brothers Circus hears religion.

Doc holds church as the canvas city, which has been his life, unfolds, displays, moves on. Church for the circus people and others, if they like.

He prays for the man who enters the lions' cage, for the daring aerialists who defy death in midair, the stake drivers, the bill posters and for show people wherever met. I hope he adds a prayer for press agents who became columnists.

As he goes from city to city Doc sometimes preaches from atop Big Burma, the most unusual pulpit in all the world; for Big Burma is an elephant. He has married circus people and baptized their children on Burma's broad back.

He ministers to the show folks, comforts and counsels them in the language all their own. He officiates of they die; gives last rites in sawdust rings within his canvas cathedral; sometimes with mourning troupers still in spangled tights and tears trickling down the festooned cheeks of clowns. The realm of make believe is really one of just plain folks—and mostly reverent ones too. They all love Doc.

He runs a Sunday school for circus children. It functions every day, not just Sundays. Last season it numbered 25 who never missed a session.

His Sunday school most likely is the only one extant with a 100 per cent attendance record. It's that way by Doc's ingenuity. He was always a master at getting out crowds:

But in his Sunday school, Doc isn't after a crowd's money. Instead of having the children drop a penny on a collection plate, he gives each one a penny. Every day they gather to hear their "Uncle Doc," as the children of the circus know this grand old man.

When Doc and I get together I don't exactly know what we'll do or where we'll go to sit and talk. He may not relish the spots we used to meet. Still after all he may—and drink ginger ale.

Doc Waddell is really William Andres. His ancestors were performers. At nine he sold candy with the old John Robinson show. A boy pal who worked with him was named Waddell. The troupe dubbed the pair Doc and Kid Waddell. The name stuck.

Doc was converted in 1905 just after I last saw him. He'd nothing much worse than tall stories to repent. In 1908 he left the circus for several years to do missionary work in hospitals, the slums and jails around Columbus, Ohio, where he lives. He still spends his Winters in that unselfish way.

And to think that's how Doc Waddell turned out! There's still a chance for me.

Bar Favors Divorce Changes

Would Discard "Guilt and Punishment" Idea.

THE American Bar Association says people who seek divorces should be handled like juvenile delinquents.

In a report to the National Conference on Family Life, the association denounced present divorce law as "rotten." It complained that the law today requires one spouse to "prove" the other is a sort of criminal. This results in "deceit" and "trickery" and makes a mockery of the whole procedure, it said.

Instead, the association said, "family courts" should be set up to find out if the ailing marriage can be cured. The courts should have wide power to decide in a "humane, honest" way what's best for the family—just as juvenile courts decide what's best for the child.

Juvenile courts already have discarded the theory of "guilt and punishment" and divorce courts should do the same, the association said. The family courts, it proposed, should be staffed with specialist judges, psychologists, psychiatrists and marriage counselors who would investigate diagnose and treat. If the case is hopeless, a divorce would be granted.

The association's 54-page study was one of 10 reports on phases of family life to be presented to the conference. It was drafted by a committee headed by Reginald Heber Smith, Boston lawyer, and Judge Paul W. Alexander of Toledo.

The bar association report recommended that President Truman set up a commission to re-examine marriage and divorce laws. It said the divorce laws "are a mess" and honest lawyers and conscientious judges are ashamed of them.

The report said serious consideration should be given to compulsory education for marriage before a marriage license is issued; laws to put a brake on elopements, because one-third end in divorce; and a law forbidding a spouse to sue for divorce during the first three years of marriage.

A second conference report charged that the boom in divorce rates had been greatly exaggerated. The report, prepared by government agencies, said the "widely used claim" that one out of every three marriages is ending in divorce is wrong.

By Navajo Indian tribal law a women is never permitted to speak to her son-in-law or he to her.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Sunday, May 22, 1938.

Battled by as many as 65 firemen and volunteers at a time for nearly four and one-half hours, fire at Belle Center destroyed an entire business block, causing damage estimated at between $30,000 and $35,000. The flames swept through eight business places, the public library, community hall and a vacant storeroom.

Dedication of life to the best there is in living, preparedness for defense against invasion and plunder, an awakened spirit of love of country and a high standard of personal attitudes were called for when a tablet to the memory of Dyer J. Bird of Union county was dedicated at the Rainbow plot in Forest Glen Memorial park by Dyer J. Bird chapter of Ohio Rainbow Division Veterans.

Mrs. John Damp of Tiffin, former Marion resident, entertained with a shower and breakfast at her home, complimenting Miss Margaret Schneider, whose marriage to Ralph G. Simpson was to take place the following Sunday.

A basket dinner attended by more than 100 persons and a program following the morning services at the First United Brethren church honored B. K. Hill, Sunday school teacher for 25 years and music director for 22 years in the church.

Mrs. T. S. Cathers, Mrs. Valeria Stuckert, Miss Christine Rieck, Miss Mary Mary Margaret O'Donnell, Miss Ruth Kleinmaier and Miss Ruth Kramer spent the weekend at Ashland, Ky. where they were guests of Miss Mary B. Pleasant, former superintendent of the Marion City hospital.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, May 22, 1928.

Community funeral services were held in the little mining town of Mather, Va. for the 60 victims of the Mather Colliery explosion.

H. R. Adams, assistant general manager of the Erie railroad, with offices in Youngstown, was a visitor in local railroad circles.

The manner in which Marion-made products had revolutionized open pit, or strip, coal mining was witnessed by 1,200 persons when the Marion Steam Shovel Co. together with the Northern Illinois Coal Corporation, sponsored a tour of inspection to the open pit mine of the latter company. A special train carried the party from Chicago to the mine near Wilmington, Ill. From Marion were D. J. Shelton, vice president and director of sales, J. L. Crissinger, secretary, Harvey T. Graceley, sales manager, C. M. Howser, district manager J. K. Holmes, chief engineer, George Cheney, assistant sales manager, L. C. Mosley, sales promotion manager and Edward Huber, assistant to the treasurer.

A garden party at the home of Mrs. J. W. Hungate on Girard avenue closed the club year for the Searchlight club.

About 60 members and guests of the Tironian club held a picnic at the Charles Conley farm east of the city. Misses Lucile Foreman and Veda Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Bohyer, Russell Dunlap and Paul Huffman, members of the faculty, were guests.

Dow Theorists Look Upward

Prolonged Bull Market in Stocks Indicated.

FOLLOWERS of the Dow theory of stock market behavior are pointing to evidence that the market is now in a sustained high-price period.

According to the theory, a prolonged bull market is due when the Dow-Jones average of industrial stocks and the average of rail stocks goes higher than the average at the time when the last preceding bear market began. This condition was attained last Friday when the Dow-Jones average of industrial stocks went above 168½-plus, its level when a sustained low-price period began in August, 1946. For some months the Dow-Jones rail average had been above the level at which its previous sustained decline set in.

The Dow theory works in reverse in predicting a prolonged bear market.

It is named after Charles H. Dow, founder of Dow, Jones and Co. It was formulated by W. P. Hamilton, who succeeded Dow as the first editor of the Wall Street Journal. It is named for Dow because Hamilton tied together analyses of stock market behavior made by Dow in numerous editorials in the Journal.

Like all theories, the Dow theory has believers and unbelievers. But even the unbelievers are inclined to watch it closely. Most differences of opinion about it are differences of interpretation.

Hamilton warned that the theory was not infallible and could be wiped out by manipulation of the market. It requires close study to follow the price movements it deals with. Dow theory disciples are sometimes called "chart followers" because of their dependence on special charts showing the direction of market movements.

This dependence has become an important market factor. When the Securities and Exchange Commission was investigating the break in stock prices in the late summer of 1946 it learned that the break gathered momentum after the Dow theory signal of a bear market had been given. The theory's followers unloaded their holdings and thereby contributed to the bear market they had been warned to expect.

Students of stock market behavior point to the similarity between this phenomenon and that of a patient who feels worse because he is told he is ill, or feels better because his doctor tells him he is going to get better. The theory itself affects the market behavior it forecasts.

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

As Sound As a Dollar

A New York congressman has introduced legislation authorizing issuance of a three-dollar bill.

That would be just the thing, these days, with which to pay for the old time 65-cent blue plate special.

The idea of the three-dollar bill is new although I have often thought, awaiting my change in bargain basements, there ought to be one for $2.98.

The author proposes to put Roosevelt's picture on the new three-dollar bill. But for that, it would doubtless be welcomed by corporations having to pay semi-annual dividends on their 6 per cent preferred.

However, in view of the fact this is a campaign year, it is not thought likely the Republican congress will look favorably on the suggestion to place FDR's likeness on federal currency . . . unless maybe the traditional E Pluribus Unum can be replaced with the motto the GOP considers more suitable, as, for instance: "You Made Me What I Am Today."

At any rate, the suggestion is an intriguing one. Most citizens have never seen a three dollar bill, except those marked "PLEASE REMIT."

Daily Bible Thought

If we really have found peace and joy in a great friendship we may well speak to others of it. There is nothing to be ashamed of in this.—Ps. 71:15: "My mouth will show forth thy righteousness and my salvation all the day; for I know not the numbers thereof."

Guest Column

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Boss: If I am going to help write this column I am going to insist on doing it my way. You can take this or leave it. In either case, do not disturb me. I will be on the chase longue when you read this and in case you wonder how a cat knows how to spell it, it is because I have been abroad and know about culture.

My subject for today is daylight saving time, which I am for. It brings clocks closer to the kind of a life normal cats lead and I am nothing if not a normal cat—a regular graduate of Normal College, ha, ha. I will tell how daylight time works for your furred friends.

Mostly we do not get thrown outside until bedtime. As I have explained to you before, we like to be outside after dark because that's the only time we don't get persecuted by yackity robins, kids and dogs. The less darkness we've had, the better it is for us.

With daylight time, most families are so exhausted by the time it gets dark that they fall into bed more dead than alive, first throwing us outside. That is the one thing no one thinks of when there's an argument about daylight time—the effect of adding that much working and playing time. Everybody burns up more energy because instead of sleeping in the morning they will be taking advantage of daylight in the evening.

So the cats will be thrown out soon after dark, to make a long story short, and will have an enjoyable time. The nice part about it is that when we come staggering home at daybreak we won't have to wait around for a couple of hours to get inside the house either.

Depending on whether we are living with early or late risers, we will be able to get attention within a reasonable period of time and this will relieve us of a good deal of strain. The cats of this country are for daylight time though I do not care to get into any arguments over it. Some people have deep feelings about it. This strikes me funny, because if they lived somewhere else they would be on different time anyway and wouldn't think anything about it. But who is a cat to say people are silly?

Just one more thing before I close. I notice that you personally took care of all the clocks when you changed them and have been looking like you just finished eating the family goldfish ever since. I know why. You think you fooled everybody by setting them 10 minutes faster than they should be but you do not realize that this was discovered the very first day and they were all set 10 minutes slower than they should be for revenge. That is why you are being late all the time. Don't thank me—it's just one of my friendly services, besides banging out a column for you when you're fresh out of subjects, for which you owe me the customary 85 cents.—

Plan Pilgrimage

Immediately following the morning worship service tomorrow at First E.U.B. church, a large number of members and friends will leave in a caravan for the newly acquired conference grounds on the south shore of Lake St. Marys. The local group will be a part of the conference wide pilgrimage which will include representations from all the churches in Sandusky conference.

The program of the day will be sponsored by the city of St Marys with the various civic and service clubs joining with the churches in its preparation. The highlight of the day will be an address by Governor Herbert at 3:30 p. m.

The conference grounds work is rapidly nearing completion and represents a conferencewide project of building and improvement on the 120 acres which came to the conference about a year ago To date, a large auditorium seating 4,000, large dining hall, three dormitories, accommodating 175 each, 14 cottages and two residences have been completed as well as sufficient channeling to raise the entire acreage above the highest known flood level. The grounds are being landscaped and give promise of becoming a "favorite meeting place" of conference, state and national religious groups

There will be no local Youth Fellowship meeting or evening service because of the St. Marys pilgrimage. Rev. Don Hochstettler, pastor, announced.

On next Wednesday night the annual congregational meeting of the entire membership of First church will be held at the church at 7:30. The main business will include reports of the various organizations and the election of officers for the year which will start June 1.

India Lace Sunday will be observed at St. Paul's English Lutheran church tomorrow at both Sunday school and worship services. At the former session, several members of the Young Women's Missionary society will present a playlet, "By Deed and Life." Tuesday, at 5:30 p. m. at the church, there will be a pot-luck supper and mission study meeting for members of the two missionary groups of the church, and their families. Mrs. Margaret Smith will give a book review.

Second in a series of sermons "examining the teaching of the Bible on the subject of Hell" will be given by Rev. Earl L Holliday at the evening service of the Maranatha Bible church tomorrow. At this service there will be a statement also concerning current events in the light of Bible prophecy as found in chapters 35-40 of the book of Ezekiel, Rev. Holliday stated, particularly "the happenings throughout the world today as they center around the Hebrew race and Palestine" Tuesday night, at the midweek service, the last of a series of messages on "The Tabernacle in the Wilderness" will be given by the pastor, dealing with "The Holy of Holies and the Ark of the Covenant."

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Albert M Hood, worship service of Second Pilgrim Holiness church tomorrow morning will be conducted by Mrs. Hood. For the evening service, Rev. L R. Roberts of Springfield, district superintendent, will preach. Rev Hood is conducting evangelistic services at the Northside Pilgrim Holiness church in Indianapolis, Ind.

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday. It will have for the Golden Text: "What agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God" (II Corinthians 6:16).

A new process has been developed to make starch from sweet-potatoes with a byproduct of cattle feed.

Christian Stewardship

A Sermonette

By REV. HENRY SCHAEFFER, Ph.D.

Pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church.

Acts 20:35—"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

WE are not pleading the cause of atheistic collectivism nor of an individualistic ownership Rather we are concerned with the idea of stewardship as the Bible understands it.

THE DIVINE OWNER — Property rights, according to the Bible, are derived neither from the group nor from the individual. They are not absolute, since God is the owner of all things temporal and spiritual The individual holder of any portion of God's property is merely a steward who manages the property so entrusted, and possesses it for a time, but he does not own it; mere possession is not ownership.

THE STEWARD — The Bible has nothing to say about the absolute rights of man He is a temporary occupant or lessee of his Lord's estate, he is a steward or trustee and in no sense a real owner or proprietor. God is the rightful owner of the soil and of all things "The land is Mine" "The world is Mine and everything therein"

LIFE AS A STEWARDSHIP —Life as a whole is a sacred trust. It is a stewardship, not an ownership God is the source of all created life "He giveth life" My life is not my own, both from the standpoint of creation and redemption "You are not your own, for you were bought" with the price of Christ's redeeming love We are His property, If God has created my life and redeemed my soul, His rights of property can not be ignored

RELIGION AS A STEWARDSHIP—The Christian religion is a stewardship Christianity goes directly back to Christ, the divine Steward, who gave it to the world as a gratuitous gift He lays no selfish claim to any of his prerogatives. "Though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor that he through His poverty might become rich"

A PRACTICAL DEFINITION—The saying of Jesus, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," is the best practical definition of Christian stewardship that we have, and seems to have been spoken in connection with that other saying of the Master, "Freely ye have received, freely give"

NOT AN IMPRACTICAL IDEAL—What the disciples had received was the free gift of God in Jesus Christ, and they went forth as "good stewards of the manifold grace of God," making distribution of the gifts entrusted to them. Christian stewardship was not regarded as an impractical ideal in any sphere of life—religious, social, economic and political.

THE WISE STEWARD OF TODAY—The application of the Biblical idea of stewardship must be left to the enlightened conscience of every Christian steward. Modern life is infinitely more complex than the tribal arrangements of a predominantly agricultural people But this is no excuse for doing little or nothing in the realm of social and economic life. Human intelligence and practical wisdom, reenforced by the motive of Christian love, can still find ways and means for the exercise of our stewardship obligations to both God and fellowman. A fair share of the earnings of agriculture and of industry on the part of all concerned, might be mentioned as well as tithing for religious and charitable purposes. And what of overseas relief? That, too, is a stewardship obligation in the light of Matthew 25:31-46. "It is more blessed to give than to receive," for all of life is a stewardship

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

by W. Wadsworth Wood

Advice on Freshening Up a Room

One of the standard modern methods of changing the appearance of a room which has started to pull on the family is to make a change in the most prominent wall. As a rule this can be done by recovering the wall surface with a paper which is in direct contrast to the other three walls. The cost is usually only a few dollars and requires no professional help.

The first step is to remove all pictures, mirrors, or other decoration, and move all the furniture out of the way. The second step is to apply a new wall covering which has some degree of startling interest but which will still blend with the colors of the other three walls. As a rule, a large flowered pattern with definite color is used so that the eye is attracted to the wall as soon as you enter the room. The result often changes the entire appearance of the room and adds a new life to the furniture as well as to the walls.

This type of wall should be left without any decoration, but the furniture should be placed along the floor so that there is a good setting. Pictures or mirrors that formerly hung on the wall should be distributed on the other wall surfaces. This will help tremendously in changing these surfaces without any expense whatever.

Quite often a homeowner decides that furniture needs recovering or the slip-covers are in order, or that the room needs redecorating. These are all expensive items, and it is possible that the treatment of one wall alone, and the rearrangement of the furniture, may accomplish excellent results at a minimum of expense.

The average wallpaper and paint store always has on hand a few spare rolls of good paper. Check the color and pattern and see what you can find that might fit into your scheme. As a rule the store will be glad to lend you a roll or two which you can hang up dry and decide upon the effect before you purchase it.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Exterior of House Stained

Q. What causes a house to become water-stained on the exterior? Our cottage is white lapsiding and is stained with an ugly brown water stain. The cottage rests on a cement wall. It has no cellar, only dirt underneath it. The exterior walls are finished with an insulating board. We heat with an oil burner. We would like either to repaint or to reside with shingles, but before doing so would like to know the underlying cause of the trouble so we need not experience it again.

A. If the stains are not located near windows and doors, but are distributed all over the walls, the chances are that the stains are caused by moisture passing from the inside through to the outide. For some reason, the air inside your house may be overcharged with moisture. This moisture, penetrating through the walls condenses, and causes an accumulation of water behind the paint film. Your lack of a good concrete basement is probably a factor in the condition. Even if the dirt floor may seem to be dry, there is always moisture in the ground which works its way up through the wall spaces and causes dampness.

Your first consideration shoud be to lay a good waterproof concrete floor in the cellar space. To reduce the humidity still further, all open-flame oil or gas-fired heaters should be vented, and the humidifier (if there is one) should be shut off. Covering the damp inside walls and ceilings with an oil-cloth type of wall covering may help to reduce the escape of vapor through the walls to the outside. A coat or two of aluminum paint should produce a similar effect. This finish, also the oil-cloth, can be painted over with oil paint. A carpenter should check window and door frames for cracks that may admit rain, and fill them with caulking-compound, forced in with a caulking-gun.

Plaster in Basement

Q. Should one patch plaster that has come off in a basement?

A. If it's ordinary plaster that is used for living rooms, it would be best to remove all of it instead of trying to patch it. This type of plaster is affected by dampness and is not intended for use in a basement.

Mr. Whitman offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning home repair work. If you would like to have his leaflet, W-5, on Condensation and Eliminating Dampness, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Roger C. Whitman, care of The Marion Star, P.O. HOMES FOR AMERICANS

By The Associated Press

California scenery is setting a style in glass houses that is spreading over the country. This Plan G-4, designed by Richard J. Neutra, 2300 Silverlake Blvd., Los Angeles 26, Calif., covers about 1,060 square feet exclusive of two-car garage. At the top is a front view of the house at the end of a dead end street. At the right is a rear corner of the living room.

TERMITES

Are too destructive to tolerate. Also termites are hard to control. Chemicals (regardless of how good they are), have little or no value unless applied by experienced, well trained men. It is literally impossible for a property owner to get results, because of lack of proper knowledge.

Then, too, many chemicals are of low flash point, making a fire hazard or toxic to people and may injure your health.

OSES OFFICE FILLS MORE JOBS IN APRIL

Office Reports 20 Per ... Increase in Month.

... office of the Ohio ...yment service filled ... more jobs during ... in March, local ... B Scherff reported.

... commenung upon ... increase of 15 per ... job opportunities ...ay by the Columbus ..., said that the 205 ...here marked an in- ...rease than 35 over ...

... in placements oc- ...agricultural employ- ment where 22 jobs were filled last month as against only six in March. Construction workers found more jobs also during April with 33 workers placed as against a March total of 10.

The report from the state office indicated a considerable percentage of the statewide increase involved placement of domestic workers in keeping with the annual "spring housecleaning" campaign. Domestic workers placed here during April totaled 32 as against 11 in March.

Job opportunities here in April totalled 443 as against 897 persons seeking employment, Mr. Scherff said.

In all, the state employment service filled a total of 27,147 jobs during April, including 2,271 jobs in the construction industry and 1,086 agricultural jobs.

The number of job opportunities during last month totaled 53,811, while 79,129 persons sought jobs.

Elks Hear Report On Bowling Plans

Several applications for membership were received when the Marion lodge of Elks met Thursday night in the club rooms. Gene Gunder, chairman of the bowling committee, announced that tentative plans are being made to have an Elks bowling league during the fall and winter season for competition in a bowling tournament with other clubs. An announcement was made of a fish fry for Elks members and their wives to be held Saturday night, followed by dancing.

Men of Erie

Marion Has Important Role In Modern Erie Efficiency

CHAPTER 6

"Erie Today"

A RAILROAD COMPANY is no better than the men who constitute and serve it. No story of the Erie today would be complete without telling of the reconstruction of its organization.

Forty years ago there were 14 operating divisions in the Erie system with an equal number of division superintendents. Today, with practically the same route mileage, there are eight. Where superintendents used to be chosen by rule of thumb, there is now a set ladder of promotion. Friction between divisions is a thing of the past, for the Erie has become a tightly knit organization from end to end. The aim of the road is steady, unceasing flow of traffic, and the main stem of the route has been pruned of dead and dying branches. In all its 114 years, the morale of the road has never been higher than it is today.

The reason for this improvement lies in the fact that the Erie has reached maturity. When the road was conceived and built, there was little precedent to follow. Railroading was "rough and ready."

HISTORIANS OF New York State recall that the right-of-way of Erie was often marked by bloody fighting among the laborers, and it, at times, the battles took on a comic opera aspect, they were no less regrettable. At one time the fighting came to a point where the militia had to be summoned. Capt. Peter Swarthout brought his company up from Port Jervis. The Deerpark Guards came with a small cannon, which no one knew how to fire, and finally came a company from Middletown in immaculate white trousers and fine boots, which did not appear quite so spic and span after two days in the mud of Shin Hollow. There was a good deal of talk after the militia arrived, but not much real action. The rioters were impressed with the soldiers and their shiny guns and gradually calmed down, much to the relief of the militia. One of them said frankly, "If there had been three or four old women with their aprons full of stones, and they had begun to bombard us, I think we would have been routed." The high sheriff of Orange county took two or three of the ring leaders back to Goshen, where they were fined and told of the ring leaders back to Goshen. peace reigned once again. Such adolescent foolishness is now a part of Erie's colorful past.

But if the startling sins of the young road are gone, so are the "prima donnas." Such temperamental stars as Dandy Joe Meginnis and Poppy Ayers could not exist under modern conditions where every train is run by a highly skilled and synchronized crew.

THE CRACK TRAIN, Erie 98, is a sound example of en-route efficiency and the way the line works. Cars from Chicago roll down to Hammond on the Indiana state line where the Erie's own rails begin. Here refrigerated fruit cars from the west coast may join in the formation of the train. At Huntington, 138 miles down the main stem from Chicago, more perishables from Texas and Louisiana are added. At Lima and Marion more eastbound cars are picked up. Marion yard is always ready for unending influx.

Some freight needs icing at Marion, yet only 10 to 20 minutes at the longest will see a trail of refrigerator cars spotted at the station, iced and on its way once again. The Diesel locomotives haul the sections to Meadville, now the home of the Production Shop for Erie. The Erie's modern power pulls the trains past Corry, Jamestown and Salamanca into Hornell where the cars may be iced again. Hornell now does most of the heavy work on steam locomotives of the system, and does it well.

The run from Hornell into Croxton Yards, the Jersey City terminus of the rails, except for two steep grades is practically water level. At Croxton, the Erie 98 loses her identity. The road locomotive is hardly on its way to the engine house before the busy little switchers are working hard at the newly arrived train. The scrambling process is thorough 24 hours a day. The yard is not easily crowded, and is capable of handling more than three thousand cars on its miles of track.

THE ERIE does not run on rails to New York City, and for this reason, the "Erie Navy" is a very important part of the service. Almost everywhere on the rim of New York harbor the road has its own waterside terminals, which keep busy a fleet of 236 vessels. There are scows, barges, lighters, car floats, tugs, and ferry boats, all of which require the railroad to operate a marine yard, just south of the passenger station in Jersey City. The fleet of boats supplies New York and transports the freight to overseas ships which carry their cargo all over the world. Then the picture reverses, and goods from abroad and from far parts of the country start pouring into Croxton for the trip west.

Long years ago, Erie began to develop as its own specialty, the swift transport of fresh fruits and vegetables from the Far West and Southwest into New York. Today the road handles more than 98% of the citrus and deciduous fruits sold in the city's huge wholesale markets. The traffic began June 28, 1887, with the arrival at Jersey City of a Central Pacific refrigerator car, hauling a shipment of plums, apricots and peaches from Vacaville, Calif. It was unloaded at Jersey City and trucked over to a building on the South Side of Bowling Green—and a mighty business had begun. At the outset of this traffic, it created as a fundamental of its operation at the Atlantic seaboard, the system of marketing by auction, which since then has spread to other metropolitan cities of America.

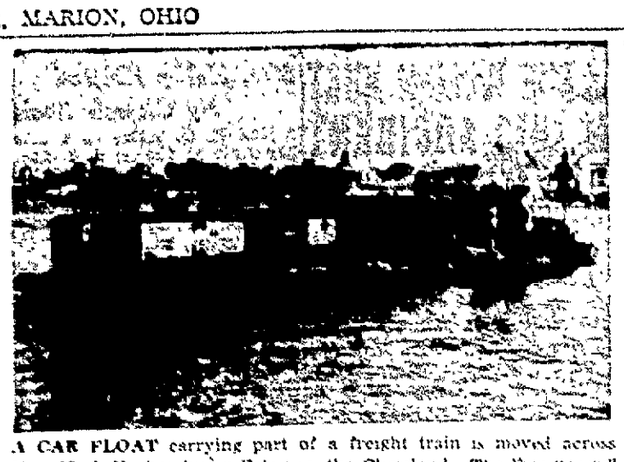
IT WOULD BE interesting if the first president, Eleazar Lord, could come back to Erie today, if he could see something of the fruition, of his vision and inspiration long ago. The six-foot gauge for which he fought so valiantly is largely responsible for the road's pet slogan, "Higher and Wider Clearances," though standard gauge track is used today. And President Benjamin Loder, who pushed the route through to Dunkirk, might be shocked to find that after all his work, the wrong terminus had been chosen.

These captains of the road and the thousands of others who have devoted their lives to Erie, have made their line one of the most efficient in the land. These are the Men of Erie to whom the success of today is a perpetual monument.

THE END



A CAR FLOAT carrying part of a freight train is moved across New York Harbor by an Erie tug, the Cleveland. The Erie "navy" includes 236 ferry boats, scows, barges, lighters, tugs and car floats.

Meeker FFA Chapter Wins State Award

Meeker High school FFA chapter is among 16 winners of silver awards to be presented by the executive committee of the Ohio Association of Future Farmers of America in the FFA state chapter contest, a dispatch from Ohio State university bureau of public relations stated.

Presentation of the awards for all-around chapter accomplishment during the past year will be made at the annual Ohio FFA convention on the Ohio State university campus June 4 and 5. The state convention will be held in conjunction with the vocational agriculture judging contests, both of which are sponsored by the university's department of agricultural education and the state department of education.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Study of High Blood Pressure

One of the serious conditions which comes with middle age is that known to doctors as essential hypertension. This is high blood pressure, for which no definite cause can be found in heart, kidney, or blood vessel disease, as is the case in other types of increased pressure.

It is by far the most common kind of high blood pressure. For this reason, and because its cause is such a mystery, essential hypertension has been the subject of many studies. One of the most heartening of these was carried out recently by Drs. David W. Blood and George A. Perera. It is of great interest because it shows that people with this very common condition can and do live many years despite the increase in their blood pressure.

The records of fifty patients who, when first seen, had a blood pressure of more than 140 and who had no severe symptoms on their first examination, were carefully analyzed. Half of the patients had mild headaches as their only complaint. The average age of the patients was 42 years. These patients were watched on an average of 17 years, the shortest period being 10 years and the longest 27.

The study showed that there was a tendency for the blood pressure to increase gradually throughout the period of study. For example, the average blood pressure at the start was 182, and at the time of last observation was 204.

The patients also develop other symptoms during the course of the study. Some complained of tiredness, nervousness, dizziness, and rapid and noticeable beating of the heart. The most frequent complaint, occurring in three out of four patients, was headache, but most of these headaches were not of the severe type. The important thing is that almost half of the patients, at the end of this long period of observation, were living normal lives, getting along well, and suffering no sever symptoms. Only about one out of five developed serious complaints or had symptoms of beginning of heart failure.

It would seem, therefore, that it is not unusual, by any means, for those with high blood pressure to live a long period of time.

This one study alone should do much to relieve the minds of those who suffer from high pressure and who, unfortunately, tend to worry about their condition, a state of affairs which only helps to make it worse.

Of course, it is important that these patients be properly treated. There are many things which can be done to aid in keeping the disorder from progressing and to lessen the severity of the symptoms which may develop.

Rest and freedom from strain are important. In those patients who are overweight, the use of a well-balanced reducing diet, with subsequent loss in weight, if often beneficial.

Of course, the complications of high blood pressure cause the greatest difficulty; yet, even when such things as heart failure develop, with proper treatment the patient may often survive several attacks. Thus, high blood pressure is not necessarily a hindrance to many years of useful, happy living.

PITCHERS TAKE SPOT FROM AA BATTERS

By The Associated Press

The hitting fury which has marked the opening stages of the American Association campaign appears to have subsided, temporarily at least, with the pitchers now having their turn to shine.

Pitchers took all the honors in Friday night's games as Columbus knocked off the leading St. Paul Saints 5 to 2 and second place Indianapolis gained a full game on the Apostles by whipping Minneapolis, 9 to 2.

Kurt Kreger, 21-year-old right-hander up from a 16-10 record at Lynchburg, Va., tossed a four hitter for his second win of the season as the Red Birds tripped St. Paul. Morrie Martin took his first loss after a streak of four victories. He gave up three runs and four hits before retiring in the eighth.

Cal McLish twirled a five hitter to lead Indianapolis over the Millers. He allowed only one hit after the second inning. The Tribe belted Rube Fischer for two runs in the first round and shelled him out in the fourth with five runs.

Earl Reid's four hit performance to pace Toledo 10-1 over Milwaukee was especially gratifying for him. Reid was recently traded to Toledo by the Brews. He shut out his former mates in every frame except the third. The Brood backed him with a 17-hit assault.

Charley Schanz, Kansas City righthander, booked his second victory and his second shutout—both against Louisville. Schanz scattered seven hits for the Blues 6-0 decision in the battle of the cellar. The Colonels now have a .316 percentage to Kansas City's .314.

JUNIOR LEGION TEAM TO OPEN AT GALION

The American Legion Junior baseballers, who opened practice today on the Harding High school diamond, will launch a 22-game season at Galion June 6 and will play at Mt Vernon, and Shelby before receiving Mansfield here June 19 in their first home game.

Eleven of the 22 games carded for the locals Legion Juniors at a meeting in Delaware Thursday will be played at home on the Lincoln park diamond.

The locals will play two games with each of the seven other teams in the newly-organized Junior league of the American Legion's Sixth Ohio district. Members teams are Marion, Mt. Gilead, Mt. Vernon, London, Marysville, Delaware, Sunbury, and Newark.

The district tournament is scheduled to be played July 17 and 18 but the tourney site hasn't yet been picked.

Winner of the district event will go to the state playoffs which will start in early August.

The sponsoring Bird-McGinnis Post plans to set up their "farm" system again this year, with perhaps 12 teams of younger players playing each other in a city league.

About 200 boys younger than 17 years of age have signed up to play Junior baseball and only 18 or 20 can play on the top team. The rest will play on the farm teams.

Boys on the Junior Legion team will be fully protected by insurance, Manager W. E. Orcutt said.

The schedule follows:

June 6, at Mt. Gilead; June 12, at Mt. Vernon; June 13 at Shelby; June 19, Mansfield; June 20, at Galion; June 23, Shelby, June 26 at London; June 27 at Mansfield

July 3, Marysville; July 4 at Delaware; July 5, Newark; July 10, Sunbury; July 11, Detroit; July 14, Mt. Gilead; July 17-18, District tournament, July 24, Mt Vernon, July 25, at Newark; July 31, London.

Aug. 1, at Marysville; Aug. 4, Delaware; Aug. 7, open; Aug. 8, Galion; Aug. 14, open, Aug. 15, Sunbury.

LA RUE WOMAN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Crash on Route 30-N Kills Findlay Man.

A Findlay man, William E. Dorsey Jr., 20, was injured fatally last night when the automobile he was driving collided with another car driven by Mrs. Marian Ridgway, 20, of LaRue, on U. S. route 30-N six miles north of East Williamstown, according to a United Press dispatch. The accident occurred about 5:30 p. m. and Dorsey died of internal injuries shortly after he was admitted to Findlay hospital.

Mrs. Ridgway is in San Antonio hospital in Kenton suffering from a possible skull fracture, bruises, abrasions and shock. Her condition is reported not to be serious.

Cause of the accident has not been determined by state highway patrolmen who were called to the scene.

Mrs. Ridgway, wife of John Ridgway, was returning home from Findlay where she is employed as a receptionist in the office of Dr Galbreth when the accident occurred. Mrs. Ridgway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Friddell of Findlay.

Dorsey, who was unmarried, served as a captain in the Air Transport Command during World War II.

A voluntary offering was taken to aid the work. It was announced that Mrs. Leech would take charge of the project of aiding the mission in the future.

At the board meeting plans were discussed for attending a district meeting of women of the diocese May 25 at Toledo, and also for the annual picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. O. E. Hamilton of the Bucyrus pike, June 1. Following the board meeting there was a communion service.

Dr. Bingham Speaks At Business College

Dr Guy M. Bingham of Washington, D. C., addressed students of the Marion Business college in an assembly Wednesday at the school. Happiness was the theme of his talk.

Dr. Bingham reminded the young people that God gives natural resources to be used and molded into life. He placed happiness in the home first and happiness in work second. He gave as three rules for success, first work, second work and third work, and designated positive elements for success as courage, hope, initiative, confidence, faith in one's self, kindliness and unselfishness. Fear, worry, lack of initiative, doubt, discouragement, jealously and envy make for failure, he pointed out. Deciding factors which make for success or failure are personality, individual characteristics, magnetic power, courtesy and appearance.

Dr. Bingham, who is a social and business specialist, was a guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club on Tuesday.

MISSION CIRCLE MEETS

Mrs. Louise Barnthouse was welcomed as a new member at a meeting of the Woman's Missionary circle of the First Evangelical and Reformed church Wednesday night at the home of Mrs Florence Haberman of Davids street. The next meeting will be held at the school May 25 and each club member will answer roll call by suggesting a name for the club. Dues are five cents.

CALLS OFF RECOUNT OF HARDIN CO. VOTES

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 22—Clarence F. Brown today was in possession of a certificate of nomination as the Republican candidate for Hardin county sheriff.

The certificate was issued by the county board of elections at the conclusion of the recount of three of 12 precincts for which a re-check was petitioned by Homer D. Radcliffe, whom Brown defeated by 27 votes in the May 4 primary election.

When the check of the three largest of the 12 precincts involved in the petition revealed no difference in the results, Radcliffe asked that the recount be called off in the remaining nine precincts.

Brown's official total vote was 822 to Radcliffe's 795. There were three other candidates for the Republican nomination: Frederick A Wood, John Renfrew and Roy Krisher.

ALL-DAY MEETING HELD BY KING'S DAUGHTERS

Mrs. Stewart Mills, assisted by Mrs. James R. Folsom, served a dessert luncheon at the all-day work meeting held by the Whatsoever circle of the King's Daughters Tuesday at the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Folsom, leader, gave the highlights of the talk given by Mrs. Walter E. Miley, state president, at a district meeting held here earlier this month. Mrs. C. H. Elliott and Mrs. Mills reported on the convention Carrying out the King's Daughters memory work for the month, the hymn of the order was sung by Mrs. Mills accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Cecil Davis. Mrs. Mills conducted the devotions.

Mrs. E. M. Breithaupt was appointed program chairman for the coming year. It was reported that 350 bandages for the leper colony assisted by the organization, had been sent to Cleveland for shipment and a comforter is being made for a needy family. The last social meeting of the year will be held June 7 with Mrs. R. H. Kester and Mrs. John Gries as hostesses.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

THE most forlorn spectacle of the last century and a half has been the steady defeatism of the human male.

As women pile on more clothes to get the new look, men wear less and less to wear. And the way it's going now in America the hefty half of the species will end up looking like a stand-in for Tarzan.

This is only because the chivalrous budget of today has as its ruling motto "women and children first." Behind it also is the steady growth of an iron femininity which remorselessly requires the defrosting of male vanity. A family can afford only one peacock—and today it's mama.

Hal Boyle

She gilds the lily. Papa's function is to dig up the gilt.

Man used to be the fashion plate. Now he doesn't even get enough to wear to be a stylish saucer.

Gone are the magnificent furbelows worn by the swaggering, word-swinging dandy of old—the sweeping crimson and sable cloak, the high-topped hat crowned with a rampant feather, the puffed lace at the throat, the splendid powdered wig, the billowy handkerchief in the sleeve, the velvet britches, the varnished boots for riding, the silver buckled shoes for dancing.

THE ONLY BUCKLE remaining to modern man is on his belt—so he can draw it tighter as he foots the bill for his lady of glamor.

Yessir, boys, the old scarlet pimpernel is down to his last petal. Man, in the days of his glory, dressed in every color of the prism. Today he feels lucky if he can be a one-color rainbow.

His finery is going fast. When I was a boy, you could buy a suit and the man would throw in an extra pair of pants, a straw hat and a ticket to the movie or a ballgame. If you brought the kids along, they got a free balloon.

Dear dead past! I bought me a postwar suit the other day. Times and money change, so I wasn't naive enough to think I'd still get the extra pants. But I was surprised to find I'd been shortchanged a vest.

"You don't want a vest," said the salesman. "Nobody wears vests anymore."

"I wear a vest," I insisted. "My father wore a vest, and my grandfather wore a vest. It's kind of a tradition in our family."

"For $12.50 additional you can have a vest," he said.

I BOUGHT THE VEST and gave up the idea of buying a hat. That's way many men are giving up wearing hats. Even baldheaded men who have to run the risk of sunstroke.

Piece by piece year by year, man's clothing is vanishing. Some items have disappeared altogether. The vest, the hat and the garter are going—in my lifetime. The cuff went away temporarily during the war. The next time it may never come back.

Soon no man will complain that Sam made the pants too long. The question is whether pants will continue being made at all. And we'll probably all lose our shirts, too. Socks also. But the last thing to go will be the necktie. Women like men to wear neckties. It gives them a handle to look.

It won't take the man of the future long to dress for a big evening out. He'll jump into his sandals, whip on a loin cloth, run a lawnmower across his chin to remove 5 o'clock shadow, slip on a black bowtie—and be ready. Mama will take longer.

SING AT NEW BLOOMINGTON

Numbers by the Woodrum quartet, Marion musicians, will be featured at afternoon and evening services at the Wesley Chapel at New Bloomington Sunday. The group includes Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodrum, Miss Evelyn Freeman, sister of Mrs. Woodrum, and Mrs. Jane Woodrum, sister-in-law. The services will be open to the public. Rev. L. D. Jones, pastor, announces.

Quickly and suddenly came the call,
Her sudden death surprised us all
Dearer to memory than words can tell,
The loss of a mother we loved so well.
Our lips cannot tell how we miss her,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say;
He alone knows how we miss her
In a home that is lonesome today.
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But love for her who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.
There has never been a day gone by,
That we don't think of you and
Since that day we lost you,
Life has never been the same.

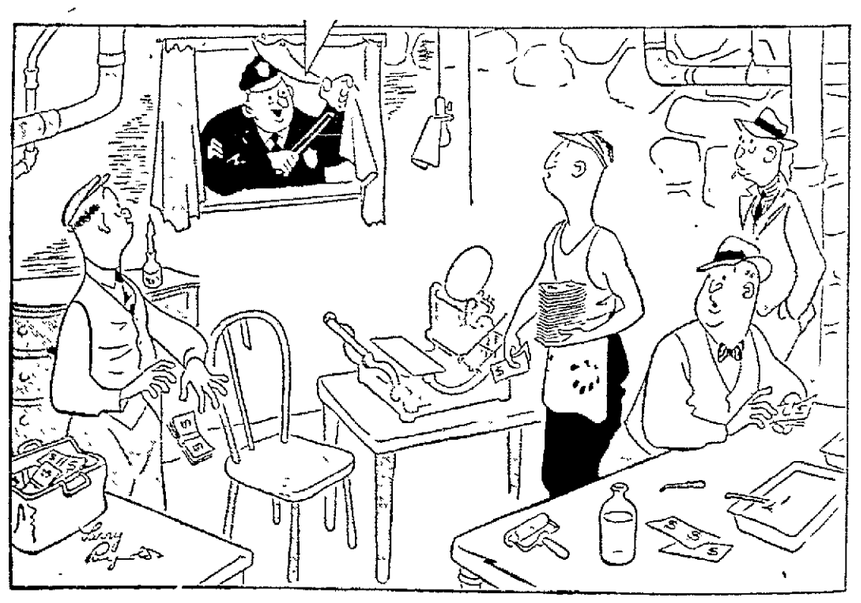
"HOLD IT BOYS! THERE'S A MUCH BETTER WAY—AND THE TREASURY DEPT. APPROVES OF IT, TOO!"



That's right! You can't find a safer, better, or simpler way to coin a tidy little bank roll for yourself than with U.S. Security Bonds!

For example: As little as $3.75 invested every week in U.S. Security Bonds will repay you $2,163.45 by 1958!

And there are two convenient ways to get your U.S. Security Bonds, too!

1. If you work for wages or salary, you can get your Bonds through Payroll Savings (the only installment-buying plan).

2. If you are in business or a profession, and the Payroll Savings Plan is not available to you—you can sign up for the Bond-A-Month Plan at your local bank.

Use whichever plan is proper for you—and start coining the money for your future financial security today!

PREVIEWS OF COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS

Double Feature On Ohio Screen

A double feature, "The Fighting 69th" and "Valley of the Giants," will be shown through Tuesday at the Ohio theater, both on their return engagements. The former stars James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Dennis Morgan, and the cast in the latter is headed by Wayne Morris with Claire Trevor and Alan Hale.

"The Fighting 69th" tells the story of a hard-boiled rookie in the Army who rebels at Army life and the only person he refuses to do anything with is Father Duffy, played by Pat O'Brien. The action moves from early camp training days to battle.

"Valley of the Giants" is filmed against a background of the California redwood forest in California. "Valley of the Giants" tells the story of Eastern promoters trying to drive the hill folk out of their forest.

"Green Grass of Wyoming," the Technicolor filmization of Mary O'Hara's best-selling adventure story of the new West, will open Friday at the Ohio and is billed for seven days. The world premiere showing of the film is being held Tuesday night in Lancaster after the racing sequence of the picture were filmed last year on the racing oval at the Lancaster fairgrounds.

Starred in the film are Peggy Cummins, Charles Coburn and Robert Arthur, with Lloyd Nolan, Geraldine Wall and Burl Ives, America's best-loved ballad singer heading the supporting cast.

"Green Grass of Wyoming" brings to a climax a series of three adventure stories of the New West by Miss O'Hara which include "My Friend Flicka" and "Thunderhead, Son of Flicka."

The white stallion, Thunderhead, in the picture is a raider who lures impressionable mares into the hills. He is the despair of the McLaughlins, the pet hate of old Beaver Greenway, and the secret joy of young Ken McLaughlin and Greenway's daughter, Carey. However, the main interest is centered on the State Fair harness races in which Ken is to make his debut and in which Beaver is being spurred by Carey to recapture his former sulky racing glory.

Joy To Show "Boomerang"

"Boomerang," a suspense filled production starring Dana Andrews with Jane Wyatt and Lee J. Cobb, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Joy theater in Oakland Heights.

Tuesday through Thursday, the billing will be "Repeat Performance" starring Louis Hayward, Joan Leslie and Richard Basehart. This film tells the story of a woman's great love for a scoundrel.

A double feature, "Thundergap Outlaws" and "It's a Joke, Son!" will be shown Friday and Saturday. The former stars Dave (Tex) O'Brien and Jim Newill as the Texas Rangers.

"Michigan Kid" At State Theater

"Michigan Kid", starring Jon Hall and Victor McLaglen, and "Flaming Youth" with an all-star cast will be the double feature playing Sunday and Monday at the State theater.

Tuesday and Wednesday, the films comprising a double feature will be "Dark Delusion" and "I'll Be Yours." The former stars Lionel Barrymore and Lucille Bremer, and heading the cast in the latter are Deanne Durbin and Tom Drake.

Esther Williams and Cyd Charisse are the stars of the film, "Fiesta," which will be the main attraction of a double feature Thursday through Saturday. Completing the billing will be "Desperate Trails" starring Johnny Mack Brown.

Musical Coming In Technicolor

"This Time for Keeps," a technicolor musical starring Esther Williams, Lauritz Melchoir, Jimmy Durante and Johnnie Johnston, will be the feature attraction of a double feature Sunday through Tuesday at the Marion theater. Completing the billing will be "Where the North Begins" starring Russell Hayden and Jennifer Holt.

"This Time for Keeps" tells how Johnnie Johnston tries a new way of winning a girl he has never met by posing as an invalid veteran. He and Esther Williams fall in love but when Johnnie's fraud is exposed by Jimmy Durante, Esther's self-appointed guardian, the two break up. It is then up to Jimmy and Esther's grandmother, played by Dame May Whitty, to devise a plan to bring the couple together.

Wednesday and Thursday, the double feature will be "I Married a Witch" and "Woman of the Town." The former stars Fredric March and Veronica Lake, and heading the cast in the latter are Claire Trevor and Albert Dekker.

Two musicals, "Song of Idaho" and "Campus Sleuth," will comprise the double billing for Friday and Saturday.

"Song of Idaho," starring the Hoosier Hot Shots with June Vincent, Kirby Grant and little Tommy Ivo, tells of a radio star who finishes the season with his sponsor and leaves for his ranch in Idaho when his quartet assures him that the contract will be renewed. Later, he learns that on the advice of the sponsor's son the show has been canceled and that he is being hunted by the sheriff on a kidnapping charge.

"Campus Sleuth," which combines mystery with music, tells of a group of teenagers who go hunting for harmony and find homicide.

Rita Hayworth, Orson Welles Starred

"The Lady from Shanghai," a dramatic story of a notorious woman of the world starring Rita Hayworth and Orson Welles, will be shown Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace theater. Principal featured players in the production are Everett Sloane and Glenn Anders.

The film tells the story of a reckless woman, played by Rita Hayworth, who is married to a brilliant lawyer, played by Sloane, who, because he is crippled, is extremely cruel to his wife at times. Into her life comes Welles, an Irish sailor, and he accompanies her on a cruise to Mexico.

Welles also walks into a murder mystery situation, goes on trial for his life, escapes and then seeks refuge in a deserted amusement park. At the park, Welles confronts Rita Hayworth and Sloane.

A double feature, "Black Bart" starring Yvonne DeCarlo, Dan Duryea and Jeffrey Lynn, and "Are You With It?" starring Donald O'Connor, Olga San Juan, Martha Stewart and Lew Parker, will be shown Thursday through Saturday.

"Black Bart," an action-packed drama photographed in technicolor, tells of a holdup man who makes life miserable for the pioneers of the west and for the Wells Fargo Express Co. when he attempts to take over the business.

A musical comedy, "Are You With It?" is principally concerned with an insurance agent, played by Donald O'Connor, who gets mixed up with a carnival.

RITA HAYWORTH, above, is co-starred with Orson Welles in the film, "The Lady from Shanghai," which will be shown Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace theater. Featured in the cast are Everett Sloane and Glenn Anders.

SCHEDULE BAND CONCERTS

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 22—The first in a series of five Sunday afternoon concerts at Harrison Smith park here will be presented by the Upper Sandusky High school band, directed by C. W. Assenheimer, at 3 p. m. next Sunday. As in previous years the concerts will be played on the natural bandstand formed by the terrace at the foot of the steep hill on the west side of the park. The program for the first concert will be a review of the music given at the recent Northern Ohio league band festival.

Cubs Meet Zanesville Tonight After Sweeping Series from Newark

10 to 4 Win Over Yanks Puts Marion Into O-I Fifth Place

By BILL DIEM

The Marion Cubs stand in fifth place in the Ohio-Indiana league today, just a whisker out of the first division and three and one-half games behind the league leading Muncie Reds after sweeping a two-game series from the Newark Yankees.

The Cubs took the second game from the Yanks, 10 to 4 last night at Lincoln park after dubbing them unmercifully the night before.

They collected 16 hits off Yankee hurler Ed Bobowski, which, added to the 18 they made off a pair of Newark twirlers Thursday night, goes a long way towards putting them back on top the league in the club batting averages.

Zanesville Here Tonight

Zanesville will be the target tonight.

The Dodgers are one-half game above the Cubs with a 10-9 record and a Marion win tonight would permit the Bruins to slip ahead and into the first division again, after having rested next to Newark in the coal hole as recently as Wednesday.

Zanesville will be here for a pair of games Sunday, the afternoon affair starting at 2 p. m. and the evening game at 7:45.

Going into the fifth frame last night, Bobowski was in command and enjoyed a one run lead, picked up off a trio of Marion bobbles in the third, but the Cubs wrested the game away from him with a vicious six hit attack that brought in seven runs.

They scored another in the seventh off two hits and three blows in the eighth brought in the final markers.

Gave Up 8 Hits

Lefty Frank Marchelli gave up eight well-scattered blows in notching his second victory for the Bruins.

The diminutive Beverly, Mass., portsider throttled the Yankees 2-1 last Sunday, his other victory since being sent to the Cubs last week by Sioux Falls of the class C Northern league.

Both Marchelli and Bobowski struck out five and walked four.

Cub catcher Tom Gatis continued to climb up the club batting standings by hitting safely three times in five trips. Two of his blows were singles to left field and the third was a sharp rap that skittered along the first base line in right. Gatis was first in the batting order.

His .500 clip in the last two games boosts him all the way to .333 after hitting in the low 200's in the early season.

All Hit Safely

All the Cub starters hit safely at least once.

Bill Bolduc and Lee Bohlander added to their reputation as the club's top hitters in the onslaught. Bolduc powered two doubles and Bohlander a double and a triple. Both batted in two runs.

After committing three errors that allowed a runner to score in the third, the Cubs tightened up and made a pair of double plays, Schnept to Mislovich to Kyker.

Manager Bob Dill of the Yankees, who swung a big bat Thursday night, doubled to drive in a runner in the fifth, but missed a chance to become a hero when he fanned in the third with two out and the bases filled.

Newark catcher Phil Trapani likewise had a chance to put the Yankees back in the game when he stepped up to the plate in the seventh with two on. The Yanks trailed at the time, 7 to 4, and he would have been the tying runner on base had he reached first, but he grounded into double play to end the rally.

Bill McKnight, who started at second for Newark, took the honors for hitting into double plays, however.

In six times at bat in the two games, he hit into three

WORSHAM THANKS LUCK FOR PGA WIN

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, May 22 — U. S. Open champion Lew Worsham thanked "luck" for his presence in third round play of the Professional Golfers Association tournament today.

Worsham, a modest lad who plays golf out of Oakmont, Calif., considered himself fortunate in winning yesterday's first round match over Al Watrous, Birmingham, Mich., one up.

Big Jim Ferrier, the 1947 champion, wasn't so fortunate. The Australian-born Ferrier, currently of San Francisco, lost in the second round to Masters champion Claude Harmon, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., 1-up.

But if Worsham was discouraged by his tough trials in the qualifying heats and first round, he had only to look to his 7 and 6 victory over Errie Ball, of Oak Park, Ill., for encouragement.

The Californian fired a 31, four strokes under par, going out against Ball, several putts being conceded.

Worsham faced Jim Demaret, Ojai, Calif., today in the third round and Harmon went up against Henry Ransom, Ravinia, Ill.

Ransom won from Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, 3 and 2, in the second round, and Demaret won from George Getchell, Oklahoma City, 3 and 1.

Another of the top matches today pitted thrice-champion Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., against Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., who had a real scare in beating young Johnny Palmer, 1-up, in the second round. He also had a real experience in topping Jack Hutchinson Jr., 1-up on 23 holes.

CHURCH LOOP LAST TO OPEN SOFTBALL

Epworth, Forest Lawn, St. May 1, F.C.B. Win.

Church league softballers played four games last night as YMCA leagues concluded first week of games. All four circuits are now open and ready to battle for first round leads.

Last night's contest saw Epworth down St. Mary No. 2, 8 to 5; Forest Lawn blast Trinity Baptist, 16 to 6; F. C. B. defeat Oakland, 12 to 3, and St. Mary No. 1 take Greenwood, 9 to 4.

St. Mary No. 2 and Epworth staged the closest battle with Epworth connecting for seven safe blows to six for the Irish. The Saints held a four-run advantage going into the fourth, but faltered in the next three innings as Epworth tallied five, two and one. Forest Lawn punched out seven runs in the first inning to take a comfortable lead as they beat the Baptists by a 10-run margin.

Bushatz pitched one-hit ball as F. C. B. won in a breeze over Oakland. His mates scored in every inning except the second to total 12 runs. Oakland scored three on one hit.

St. Mary No. 1 rammed in six runs in the top of the fifth to overcome a one run deficit. Greenwood held a slim 3-2 lead until the big fifth. Hits were about even, Dick Moran permitting eight while Thorpe gave up seven to the Irish.

Playing on their regular night Monday in the Church loop, Epworth will meet Greenwood at Harding. Baptist will play St. Mary No. 1 at Garfield, F. C. B. will tangle with St. Mary No. 2 at Eagles, and Oakland will oppose Forest Lawn at McKinley.

TRIBE COOLED OFF BY BOSOX BLOWS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 22 — The league-leading Cleveland Indians were cooled off today after encountering a barrage of base hits by the Boston Red Sox, but Manager Lou Boudreau still hopes the Redskins can attain the goal he set for them in contests with the eastern clubs.

Boudreau anticipated two out of three against the Red Sox, an even split in tomorrow's double header with the New York Yankees and two straight over the Washington Nationals next week.

The Indians trounced Boston 13 to 4 in the series opener Thursday night.

The Red Sox finally displayed the offensive power expected of them when they smothered the Indians yesterday under an avalanch of 18 base hits, 11 to 5.

Spearheading the attack was Ted Williams, who enjoyed a perfect day at the plate with four hits and a pair of walks. He lashed a tremendous 475-foot home run into the upper right field stands in the sixth inning.

Boston concentrated its attack upon rookie southpaw Bill Kennedy and Al Gettel. Steve Gromek and Ed Klieman held the Sox partially in check. Joe Dobson, an ex-Indian, went the distance for Boston and although he was shaky at times he had enough when it counted. He allowed 12 hits.

Denison Captures Golf Championship

By The Associated Press

GRANVILLE, O., May 22—The Big Reds of Denison university snatched the Ohio conference golf championship yesterday, nipping the defending champion, University of Toledo, 318-321.

Jack Futerer of Denison led the field of 63 college golfers from 17 schools with a four-over-par 75 at the Granville Inn course, one stroke better than Edward Rupp of Denison and Kenneth Mast of Heidelberg.

Team scores:

Kent State 327, Ohio Wesleyan 334, Marietta 348, Capital 349, Kenyon 352, Oberlin 357, Case 363, Ashland 370, Baldwin-Wallace 378. John Carroll, with two entries and Heidelberg with one did not figure in team totals.

Can Bucs Make Jump from Bottom to Top?

They're Trying to Prove They Can And Are Pushing Leading Cards

By The Associated Press

It's a big jump from the bottom of the heap to the first division, but the Pittsburgh Pirates are trying to prove that it can be done.

Of course, the season has a long way to run and the Pirates may hit a snag when they run into the usual heavy mid-season doubleheaders, but Manager Billy Meyer's crew is in third place today, pressing the St. Louis Cardinals for the lead.

Due to postponements, Meyer has been able to give his veteran pitchers such as Rip Sewell, Elmer Riddle and Fritz Ostermueller plenty of rest and the old-timers have come through with nine of the Pirates 15 victories.

Rickey Thought So

Very few thought that the Pirates, who finished the 1947 season in a seventh place tie with the Philadelphia Phillies, would be among the upper brackets this year. One who did however, is Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rickey isn't reminding people of his prediction and pointing out how the Pirates are living up to it because his Dodgers, defending National league champions, are in seventh place and threatening to drop lower.

The Pirates paid their first visit to Ebbets field, home of the Dodgers, yesterday, and shot up the place, 8-4, to hand the Brooks their sixth straight loss.

Frankie Gustine and Max West were the big guns in the Pirate bombardment, but former Dodgers Ostermueller, Hal Gregg and Dixie Walker also played important parts.

The victory enabled the Pirates to pull to within four percentage points of the second place New York Giants and to within two and a half games of the Cards.

Cubs Cuff Giants

The Giants took an 8-3 cuffing from the Chicago Cubs while the Cards bowed, 3-1, to Braves in a night game at Boston.

Two homers by rookie Clarence Maddern and a homer and triple by Eddie Waitkus featured the Cub triumph in the Polo grounds. Maddern batted in four runs and Waitkus three.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia Athletics cut the first place American league margin of the Cleveland Indians to a half game by beating the Detroit Tigers, 9-6, while the Indians dropped a 11-5 decision to the Boston Red Sox.

The Chicago White Sox, led by two former Yankees, Bill Wight and Aaron Robinson, beat the New York Yankees, 3-0. Wight held the Yanks to three singles while Robinson drove in one run and scored another. The win was the last place Sox's fifth in 24 games.

In a night game at St. Louis the Browns eked out a 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators to hold fifth place, five percentage points behind the Tigers.

A scheduled night game between the Cincinnati Reds and the Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

Batting—Frank Gustine, Pirates—led Pittsburgh attack with five hits, scored four runs and drove in two as Bucs hammered Dodgers, 8-4.

Ted Williams, Red Sox—Had perfect day at bat with four hits and two walks in six trips. Hit his eighth homer into upper deck of Cleveland stands in 11-5 romp over leaders.

Pitching—Bill Wight, White Sox—Shut out former New York Yankee mates with three hits, 3-0, to break Chicago's long losing streak.

CANT' ACCUSE O-I LOOP OF BEING DULL

Zanesville - Lima Game Features Weird Play.

By The Associated Press

Whatever the fans could say about Ohio-Indiana league baseball today, they couldn't accuse it of being dull.

Witness last night's round of frolics, a typical evening in the class D circuit:

League-leading Muncie cooled second-place Springfield, 21-8, counting 10 runs in a fantastic second inning. Shortstop Billy Ford, who clubbed four hits in five trips Thursday night, clipped five for five last night, a hitting average of .900 in two games.

Marion's Cubs came from behind against Newark to win 10-4, with the clincher coming in the fourth when Newark led, 1-0 Then the Cubs found the range and shelled out seven markers.

Zanesville and Lima played another fancy contest, and Zanesville won, 11-8. The game began this way Zanesville scored five runs off Dave Magato and Ray Pope in the first half of the first inning. Magato tossed 13 consecutive balls without getting that first strike over. Pope was called in with one ball and no strikes on the fourth man. He didn't have time to warm up.

But, even so, Zanesville had to go 10 innings to win and a substitute Bob Massey, who went into right field in the third, did the honors. He hit three for four and drove in three runs, all in the winning 10th.

Portsmouth won the night's most sensible contest, a 4-0 decision over the Richmond Braves on the three-hit pitching of Jim McCream. It was the first shutout Portsmouth has been able to collect this season.

Only change in the standings sent Marion into fifth place, bypassing the Richmond Braves.

The line scores:

Richmond	000	000	000—0 3 3
Portsmouth	030	100	00x—4 5 1

Lancaster Dashman Dominates Ohio High School Track Meet

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22—A long, lean, lanky lad from Lancaster held the spotlight today as Ohio's high school cinder squad went after the 41st state championships at Ohio State university stadium track.

The flash from Fairfield county, senior Gene Cole, was playing an almost hopeless lone hand in quest of the class A team title but he was certain to stir up plenty of trouble.

Unheralded, and making his first start in the big competition, he dominated the qualifying heats in the 100, 200 and 440-yard dashes yesterday. It's his first attempt over the blazing cinders, for Lancaster is offering its first track team in years, with Coach Art Francis at the helm.

Cole breezed through a couple of 9.9-second century dashes, fastest time of the day, sprinted 10 yards ahead of the field in the 440-yard qualifier in a neat 49.8 performance, and then chopped off times of 23 seconds flat and 22.9 in the 220. He did 21.7 in the latter event in the district finals, and may be pushed to that mark again today.

Despite Cole's show-stealing performance in the six-event qualifier, the class A title was rated a toss-up between Cleveland Central and Columbus Central, the one-two teams of 1947, with Canton McKinley and Springfield making it interesting and each with a chance to sneak in for the class A crown.

Springfield's big chance, after victories in the Mansfield, Wesleyan and Miami Relays, went glimmering when Don Stinchcomb, star hurdler and relay team member, pulled a muscle and dropped out of the point-parade.

Today's big track show offered 14 events in both class A and class B, with Poland the defending champion among the smaller schools.

Cubs Meet Zanesville Tonight After Sweeping Series from Newark

10 to 4 Win Over Yanks Puts Marion Into O-I Fifth Place

By BILL DIEM

The Marion Cubs stand in fifth place in the Ohio-Indiana league today, just a whisker out of the first division and three and one-half games behind the league leading Muncie Reds after sweeping a two-game series from the Newark Yankees.

The Cubs took the second game from the Yanks, 10 to 4 last night at Lincoln park after dubbing them unmercifully the night before.

They collected 16 hits off Yankee hurler Ed Bobowski, which, added to the 18 they made off a pair of Newark twirlers Thursday night, goes a long way towards putting them back on top the league in the club batting averages.

Zanesville Here Tonight

Zanesville will be the target tonight.

The Dodgers are one-half game above the Cubs with a 10-9 record and a Marion win tonight would permit the Bruins to slip ahead and into the first division again, after having rested next to Newark in the coal hole as recently as Wednesday.

Zanesville will be here for a pair of games Sunday, the afternoon affair starting at 2 p. m. and the evening game at 7:45.

Going into the fifth frame last night, Bobowski was in command and enjoyed a one run lead, picked up off a trio of Marion bobbles in the third, but the Cubs wrested the game away from him with a vicious six hit attack that brought in seven runs.

They scored another in the seventh off two hits and three blows in the eighth brought in the final markers.

Gave Up 8 Hits

Lefty Frank Marchelli gave up eight well-scattered blows in notching his second victory for the Bruins.

The diminutive Beverly, Mass., portsider, throttled the Yankees 2-1 last Sunday, his other victory since being sent to the Cubs last week by Sioux Falls of the class C Northern league.

Both Marchelli and Bobowski struck out five and walked four.

Cub catcher Tom Gatts continued to climb up the club batting standings by hitting safely three times in five trips. Two of his blows were singles to left field and the third was a sharp rap that skittered along the first base line in right. Gatts was first in the batting order.

His .500 clip in the last two games boosts him all the way to .333 after hitting in the low 200's in the early season.

All Hit Safely

All the Cub starters hit safely at least once.

Bill Bolduc and Lee Bohlander added to their reputation as the club's top hitters in the onslaught. Bolduc powered two doubles and Bohlander a double and a triple. Both batted in two runs.

After committing three errors that allowed a runner to score in the third, the Cubs tightened up and made a pair of double plays, Schnept to Mislovich to Kyker.

Manager Bob Dill of the Yankees, who swung a big bat Thursday night, doubled to drive in a runner in the fifth, but missed a chance to become a hero when he fanned in the third with two out and the bases filled.

Newark catcher Phil Trapani likewise had a chance to put the Yankees back in the game when he stepped up to the plate in the seventh with two on. The Yanks trailed at the time, 7 to 4, and he would have been the tying runner on base had he reached first, but he grounded into double play to end the rally.

Bill McKnight, who started at second for Newark, took the honors for hitting into double plays, however.

In six times at bat in the two games, he hit into three

WORSHAM THANKS LUCK FOR PGA WIN

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, May 22—U. S. Open champion Lew Worsham thanked "luck" for his presence in third round play of the Professional Golfers Association tournament today.

Worsham, a modest lad who plays golf out of Oakmont, Calif., considered himself fortunate in winning yesterday's first round match over Al Watrous, Birmingham, Mich., one up.

Big Jim Ferrier, the 1947 champion, wasn't so fortunate. The Australian-born Ferrier, currently of San Francisco, lost in the second round to Masters champion Claude Harmon, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., 1-up.

But if Worsham was discouraged by his tough trials in the qualifying heats and first round, he had only to look to his 7 and 6 victory over Errie Ball, of Oak Park, Ill., for encouragement.

The Californian fired a 31, four strokes under par, going out against Ball, several putts being conceded.

Worsham faced Jim Demaret, Ojai, Calif., today in the third round and Harmon went up against Henry Ransom, Ravinia, Ill.

Ransom won from Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, 3 and 2, in the second round, and Demaret won from George Getchell, Oklahoma City, 3 and 1.

Another of the top matches today pitted thrice-champion Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., against Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., who had a real scare in beating young Johnny Palmer, 1-up, in the second round. He also had a real experience in topping Jock Hutchinson Jr., 1-up on 23 holes.

CHURCH LOOP LAST TO OPEN SOFTBALL

Epworth, Forest Lawn, St. May 1, F.C.B. Win.

Church league softballers played four games last night as YMCA leagues concluded first week of games. All four circuits are now open and ready to battle for first round leads.

Last night's contest saw Epworth down St. Mary No. 2, 8 to 5; Forest Lawn blast Trinity Baptist, 16 to 6; F. C. B. defeat Oakland, 12 to 3, and St. Mary No. 1 take Greenwood, 9 to 4.

St. Mary No. 2 and Epworth staged the closest battle with Epworth connecting for seven safe blows to six for the Irish. The Saints held a four-run advantage going into the fourth, but faltered in the next three innings as Epworth tallied five, two and one. Forest Lawn punched out seven runs in the first inning to take a comfortable lead as they beat the Baptists by a 10-run margin.

Bushatz pitched one-hit ball as F. C. B. won in a breeze over Oakland. His mates scored in every inning except the second to total 12 runs. Oakland scored three on one hit.

St. Mary No. 1 rammed in six runs in the top of the fifth to overcome a one run deficit. Greenwood held a slim 3-2 lead until the big fifth. Hits were about even, Dick Moran permitting eight while Thorpe gave up seven to the Irish.

Playing on their regular night Monday in the Church loop, Epworth will meet Greenwood at Harding. Baptist will play St. Mary No. 1 at Garfield. F. C. B. will tangle with St. Mary No. 2 at Eagles, and Oakland will oppose Forest Lawn at McKinley.

TRIBE COOLED OFF BY BOSOX BLOWS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 22 — The league-leading Cleveland Indians were cooled off today after encountering a barrage of base hits by the Boston Red Sox, but Manager Lou Boudreau still hopes the Redskins can attain the goal he set for them in contests with the eastern clubs.

Boudreau anticipated two out of three against the Red Sox, an even split in tomorrow's doubleheader with the New York Yankees and two straight over the Washington Nationals next week.

The Indians trounced Boston 13 to 4 in the series opener Thursday night.

The Red Sox finally displayed the offensive power expected of them when they smothered the Indians yesterday under an avalanch of 18 base hits, 11 to 5.

Spearheading the attack was Ted Williams, who enjoyed a perfect day at the plate with four hits and a pair of walks. He lashed a tremendous 475-foot home run into the upper right field stands in the sixth inning.

Boston concentrated its attack upon rookie southpaw Bill Kennedy and Al Gettel. Steve Gromek and Ed Klieman held the Sox partially in check. Joe Dobson, an ex-Indian, went the distance for Boston and although he was shaky at times he had enough when it counted. He allowed 12 hits.

Denison Captures Golf Championship

By The Associated Press

GRANVILLE, O., May 22—The Big Reds of Denison university snatched the Ohio conference golf championship yesterday, nipping the defending champion, University of Toledo, 318-321.

Jack Futerer of Denison led the field of 63 college golfers from 17 schools with a four-over-par 75 at the Granville Inn course, one stroke better than Edward Rupp of Denison and Kenneth Mast of Heidelberg.

Team scores:

Kent State 327, Ohio Wesleyan 334, Marietta 348, Capital 349, Kenyon 352, Oberlin 357, Case 363, Ashland 370, Baldwin-Wallace 378. John Carroll, with two entries and Heidelberg with one did not figure in team totals.

Can Bucs Make Jump from Bottom to Top?

They're Trying to Prove They Can And Are Pushing Leading Cards

By The Associated Press

It's a big jump from the bottom of the heap to the first division, but the Pittsburgh Pirates are trying to prove that it can be done.

Of course, the season has a long way to run and the Pirates may hit a snag when they run into the usual heavy mid-season doubleheaders, but Manager Billy Meyer's crew is in third place today, pressing the St. Louis Cardinals for the lead.

Due to postponements, Meyer has been able to give his veteran pitchers such as Rip Sewell, Elmer Riddle and Fritz Ostermueller plenty of rest and the old-timers have come through with nine of the Pirates 15 victories.

Rickey Thought So

Very few thought that the Pirates, who finished the 1947 season in a seventh place tie with the Philadelphia Phillies, would be among the upper brackets this year. One who did however, is Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rickey isn't reminding people of his prediction and pointing out how the Pirates are living up to it because his Dodgers, defending National league champions, are in seventh place and threatening to drop lower.

The Pirates paid their first visit to Ebbets field, home of the Dodgers, yesterday, and shot up the place, 8-4, to hand the Brooks their sixth straight loss.

Frankie Gustine and Max West were the big guns in the Pirate bombardment, but former Dodgers Ostermueller, Hal Gregg and Dixie Walker also played important parts.

The victory enabled the Pirates to pull to within four percentage points of the second place New York Giants and to within two and a half games of the Cards.

Cubs Cuff Giants

The Giants took an 8-3 cuffing from the Chicago Cubs while the Cards bowed, 3-1, to Braves in a night game at Boston.

Two homers by rookie Clarence Maddern and a homer and triple by Eddie Waitkus featured the Cub triumph in the Polo grounds. Maddern batted in four runs and Waitkus three.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia Athletics cut the first place American league margin of the Cleveland Indians to a half game by beating the Detroit Tigers, 9-6, while the Indians dropped a 11-5 decision to the Boston Red Sox.

The Chicago White Sox, led by two former Yankees, Bill Wight and Aaron Robinson, beat the New York Yankees, 3-0. Wight held the Yanks to three singles while Robinson drove in one run and scored another. The win was the last place Sox's fifth in 24 games.

In a night game at St. Louis the Browns eked out a 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators to hold fifth place, five percentage points behind the Tigers.

A scheduled night game between the Cincinnati Reds and the Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

CANT' ACCUSE O-I LOOP OF BEING DULL

Zanesville-Lima Game Features Weird Play.

By The Associated Press

Whatever the fans could say about Ohio-Indiana league baseball today, they couldn't accuse it of being dull.

Witness last night's round of frolics, a typical evening in the class D circuit:

League-leading Muncie cooled second-place Springfield, 21-8, counting 10 runs in a fantastic second inning. Shortstop Billy Ford, who clubbed four hits in five trips Thursday night, clipped five for five last night, a hitting average of .900 in two games.

Marion's Cubs came from behind against Newark to win 10-4, with the clincher coming in the fourth when Newark led, 1-0. Then the Cubs found the range and shelled out seven markers.

Zanesville and Lima played another fancy contest, and Zanesville won, 11-8. The game began this way: Zanesville scored five runs off Dave Magato and Ray Pope in the first half of the first inning. Magato tossed 13 consecutive balls without getting that first strike over. Pope was called in with one ball and no strikes on the fourth man. He didn't have time to warm up.

But, even so, Zanesville had to go 10 innings to win and a substitute Bob Massey, who went into right field in the third, did the honors. He hit three for four and drove in three runs, all in the winning 10th.

Portsmouth won the night's most sensible contest, a 4-0 decision over the Richmond Braves on the three-hit pitching of Jim McCream. It was the first shutout Portsmouth has been able to collect this season.

Only change in the standings sent Marion into fifth place, bypassing the Richmond Braves.

The line scores:

Richmond	000	000	000—0 3 3
Portsmouth	030	100	00x—4 5 1

WHITE BASS RUNNING

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22—The white bass are running again in Buckeye Lake, Ray H. Riethmiller, fish management agent for the central Ohio conservation district, reported yesterday that recent rains brought a second run of the fish that promised to be as good as the first. The white bass average about 12 inches in length, indicating a surplus of mature fish, Riethmiller said.

BLUE MOUND

There's a reason behind that faint "bluish" tinge that marks the pitcher's mound at Cleveland's Municipal stadium. A special blue clay, dug up from the bottom of Lake Erie, is used on the Indian's pitching hill.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Frank Gustine, Pirates—led Pittsburgh attack with five hits, scored four runs and drove in two as Bucs hammered Dodgers, 8-4.

Ted Williams, Red Sox—Had perfect day at bat with four hits and two walks in six trips. Hit his eighth homer into upper deck of Cleveland stands in 11-5 romp over leaders.

Pitching—Bill Wight, White Sox—Shut out former New York Yankee mates with three hits, 3-0, to break Chicago's long losing streak.

Lancaster Dashman Dominates Ohio High School Track Meet

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22—A long, lean, lanky lad from Lancaster held the spotlight today as Ohio's high school cinder squads went after the 41st state championships at Ohio State university stadium track.

The flash from Fairfield county, senior Gene Cole, was playing an almost hopeless lone hand in quest of the class A team title, but he was certain to stir up plenty of trouble.

Unheralded, and making his first start in the big competition, he dominated the qualifying heats in the 100, 200 and 440-yard dashes yesterday. It's his first attempt over the blazing cinders, for Lancaster is offering its first track team in years, with Coach Art Francis at the helm.

Cole breezed through a couple of 9.9-second century dashes, fastest time of the day, sprinted 10 yards ahead of the field in the 440-yard qualifier in a neat 49.9 performance, and then chopped off times of 23 seconds flat and 22.9 in the 220. He did 21.7 in the latter event in the district finals, and may be pushed to that mark again today.

Despite Cole's show-stealing performance in the six-event qualifier, the class A title was rated a toss-up between Cleveland Central and Columbus Central, the one-two teams of 1947, with Canton McKinley and Springfield making it interesting and each with a chance to sneak in for the class A crown.

Springfield's big chance, after victories in the Mansfield, Wesleyan and Miami Relays, went glimmering when Don Stinchcomb, star hurdler and relay team member, pulled a muscle and dropped out of the point-parade.

Today's big track show offered 14 events in both class A and class B, with Poland the defending champion among the smaller schools.

LAURENCE OLIVIER, born May 22, 1907, is head of the Old Vic repertory group in London. His stage and screen work have been hailed both in England and the United States. Son of an Anglican minister, he was a boy choir singer of note. After a tour as British Navy flier, he was called to reorganize the Old Vic company in 1944. Its old theater had been bombed out. Oliver is husband of Vivien Leigh of stage and screen fame.

Richwood Cub Scouts Observe Family Night

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, May 22—Family night was observed by the four dens of the Cub Scouts this week in the First Methodist church basement. Plans were made for the boys to attend the scout meeting to be held at the Lancaster camp ground June 7-8-9. They still need a few more tents for camping. Four of the mothers, Rev. Brewster, Bob Davis and one other young man yet to be chosen will accompany the boys. Mrs. Zane Randall, mother of Den No. 3 arranged a short skit "Pioneers Going to California, Attacked by the Indians," and presented by Gene Swartz, David Roseth, Billy Randall, Billy Sheets, Dick Sheets, Charles Warner, Billy Fuches and Tommy Shields, all members of Den No. 3.

THROWN FROM TRACTOR

ASHLEY—Carl Creech, a young man of near Prospect was injured Wednesday while driving a tractor on the Crawbaugh farm east of Ashley. He was thrown to the ground when the tractor struck a stump landing on his left elbow which was severely jolted and bruised.
